Foreword

INSPIRED by a sense of loyalty for Springfield High School's glorious tradition of honor, the students have upheld the dignity and prestige of the school and have contributed their best efforts toward a successful year.

Because we deeply appreciate this attitude, we have tried to present a true and sincere record of Springfield High School for the year 1925-26.

Editor.

The Motif

Gayly bedecked—
Pennons red and black—
Full mast she comes to port,
The good ship—CAPITOLINE!
Her captain bold—SCHOOL SPIRIT!
An enchanted ship—
She takes us all
O'er five ethereal seas,
(We name them as we please)
First—the calm CAMPUS,
Second—the wide-spread ORGANIZATIONS,
With the islands that dot her rippling waters,
Then ATHLETICS, turbulent and strong,
Against her huge warrior cliffs,
Roar "Victory"—"On to Victory!"
Next, the vast sea, called THE SCHOOL—
Onto the rollicking waves of SCHOOL LIFE,
Sparkling, dancing, sunkist with glee.
As the year glides by
With winged stride,
Once again the ship finds haven,
All disembark
With happy hearts
From the good ship—CAPITOLINE!

Dedication

To those who were loyal to Springfield High School throughout the year and those who remained true whether the school experienced victory or defeat.

To those who have spent their time and efforts to raise the scholastic standing of the school.

To those who have given their ability and best efforts in whatever line of school activity, we dedicate this Capitoline.

The Campus

Central High School

Out of the sea some thirty years ago arose an island, the largest high school that Springfield had hitherto seen. Its halls were filled with the parents of many of the present dwellers. But the inhabitants increased so rapidly, even tho many put out on the mighty Sea of Life in which there can be no return, that a decade ago, many people moved to a new island nearby.

A younger generation sped through the halls of the older island. Then again and suddenly the order changeth and the dwellers thereof usually stayed one year. A home in the newer island is much desired and some meritorious islanders attain it.

There is much intermingling between the inhabitants of the two islands as they have the same interests.

Springfield High School

Lo! Upon September 6, 1916 an island slowly began to rise from the calm bosom of the Campus Sea. A remarkable isle whose steep walls were of brick and stone, whose caves were large and regular and sharp cornered. A magical isle whose interior could be flooded at any time with golden light. A beautiful island whose sloping beach was luxuriantly verdant with ancient trees.

The island soon became populated with a noisy swarm of human beings— young and old.

Nineteen hundred of them. Queer folks they are. During the day they stay at home in their caves but at night they put out to sea and sail in their respective barks till well after dawn the next morning.

Queer fish abound the surrounding waters. There are huge fishes of the automobile genus and their specie name runs from Cadillac to "Oswald" or "Patsy." There are numerous small rocks nearby from which come the most alluring odors. As if they were Lorelei they lure the islanders irresistably at the time when the sun is at its zenith. Other odors lead many others to the lower floor of the cliff.

Many mariners have charted this comparatively new island and have named it Springfield High School. The fame of its people has spread far and wide. Not like those of whose bones rest yet beneath its foundation this isle lives and lives in education and in youth.

Mighty Springfield—Chorus

Springfield, O mighty Springfield,
Unfurl, unfurl your crimson banner to the sky:
Springfield, O mighty Springfield
Your Red and Black means "do or die!"
Springfield, O mighty Springfield,
Once more let's hear your battle cry,
'Rah, 'rah, 'rah, 'rah, Springfield, Springfield
'Rah, 'rah, 'rah, 'rah, Springfield, Springfield
Nine 'rahs for Springfield High!

Organizations

Student Government

ORDERLINESS and contentment prevails on our ship. When we look around we find everything in its right place. Even the smallest article is taken care of and every passenger is orderly and well satisfied. At first glance we see only the result—the smoothness and precision with which everything takes place but a closer observation discloses to us the governing organization of our ship. This organization is “Student Government.”

Student Government is a comparatively recent experiment. It has been tried in several schools and in every one in which it has been introduced it has been well received. It is much like the government of the United States in that its control is divided between two houses—Representatives and Senators.

A separate House of Representatives, chosen by each class, is composed of a boy and girl from every session room elected by popular vote. It is the duty of the Representatives to promote the interest of their respective classes in scholarship and athletics and to transact any business undertaken by the class as a whole.

The highest body of the student organization is the Senate, composed of two representatives from each class, a boy and a girl. The boy senators are elected by the House of Representatives while all the girl senators are appointed by the faculty advisors. The senate possesses no real power but merely acts as an advisory body expressing the opinions of the school.

These are the administrators of our student body—the Senators and Representatives who are constantly co-operating and striving together for the betterment of school life and school interests.

The Senate of 1926 was unusually active in raising the standard of Springfield High School. Socially, financially and morally the Senate was a great success. Two dances were given and enjoyed by all who attended. But the greatest of its achievements was a moral campaign launched during the latter part of the second semester. The object of this campaign was to raise the general morale of the school to a high standard. The Senate adjourned at the end of the year hoping that the Senate of next year will be able to develop a better School Spirit.

The House of Representatives of the class of '26 has perhaps achieved more than has any other similar body in previous years. During the past year the representatives have sponsored four successful senior parties and five peppy senior assemblies.

They have succeeded, to the highest degree, in making their last year in S. H. S. their very best.

The Junior House of Representatives like the Senior House has been unusually active this year. The first semester was spent in choosing the pins and rings for the class of '27. But the crowning achievement of the Junior Representatives was the Junior-Senior Prom, June 4.

A large number of Juniors and Seniors attended the prom which was pronounced by members of the faculty, the best of its kind for years. The aim of the Junior house, to raise their class in the eyes of the school, has been fully attained.

Considering the number and magnitude of the handicaps under which they have labored the Sophomore Representatives have been unusually successful this year. The House complains of two major difficulties. The first is that they have for their meeting place, the balcony of the auditorium. The second is that the Seniors have the first floor of the auditorium, making their meeting place an unsatisfactory one. Despite these handicaps the Sophomores have organized a basketball team and performed in an efficient manner the business of the class.

The Representatives of the class of '29, under the direction of Mr. Nichols, have successfully carried out the business of the class. For so large a body they have co-operated very well. The representatives have tried to raise the standard of scholarship in the Freshman Class. The Representatives wish to acknowledge Mr. Nichols' diligent work as the outstanding factor in their success.

The Capitoline

Approaching the Wrangler Isle we see floating in the distance the blue and gold banner, signifying scholarship, athletic prowess and good fellowship. This island is the oldest of the group, having been organized for twenty years. The inhabitants of this group are selected from the cream of the school because of the rigid requirements necessary for entrance, hence great things are accomplished by it.

In maintaining the Wrangler leadership in all school activities they have succeeded in placing two men on the football, swimming and basketball teams. In debate, the primary object of the society, five of the members succeeded in making the varsity teams. The election of eight class officers and two senators shows the esteem in which they are held by their fellow students. In dramatics the society was also very well represented and both the Editor-in-Chief and the Business Manager of the '26 Capitoline are members of the society.

In the line of entertainment the society excelled in an Easter Dance, which was a wonderful success both from the standpoint of attendance and modes of entertainment introduced. A fall dance and an open house night were also very successful in the eyes of those who attended.

The society as a whole attribute the success of the year to the enthusiasm and cooperation on the part of Mr. Brown, the faculty advisor.

The objects of the society are to promote debating and oratory, good scholarship and good fellowship, and to promote the interests of the school.

The Capitoline

*"Over the rolling waves
Over the waters high."*

The good ship "Capitoline" sailed on while the largest crowd of youths and maidens that were gathered together during the trip were gayly dancing mid sky-dimmed lights and slowly falling snow flakes to the syncopation of Bradley's Orchestra at the Thalian's annual Xmas dance.

To break the monotony of smooth sailing the Inter-Society debate was given. Helen Marx, Adeline Hatfield and Gertrude O'Brien were chosen to represent the Thaliens. Winning a 3 to 0 decision from Swastikas and 2 to 1 from Hi-Y's brought them into the finals where the Delphics wrest from them the silver loving cup.

During the early part of the voyage six new members were initiated. They also presented their new advisor Miss Athans with their society pin to express their gratitude for the quick and earnest manner in which she had helped them with their club work.

Not long after this their mothers met with them on the upper deck and were entertained by a play, "Music and Eats."

Then to their great consternation and surprise Miss Athan was married during the Xmas vacation. Miss Hays consented to be their guardian and Miss Davidson was voted an honorary member.

When April showers lightly sprinkled the blue sea waters the Thaliens "threw" their spring dance, Roche's Orchestra playing for the happy throng winding about in the gayly decorated hall.

Then as spring parties again became the favorite pastime of the voyagers the Thalian Literary Society wishing everyone to have a good time on board ship, each member invited a friend to attend a party, laugh at the comedy "The Mayor and the Manicure" and gorge themselves on "Nana Splits."

But "Nana Splits" aren't always filling, at least the Juniors of the society don't seem to think so, for they loaded down the groaning tables at the Senior Banquet with so many delicious foods that the Sedate Seniors were almost afraid to laugh at the funny poems, jokes and prophesy read to them.

At all the sports and events on board ship the Thaliens were well represented, in the Class Play, the Operetta, Capitoline Staff, Representatives, Varsity debate, Class officers, May Festival and Inter-Society debate.

The Capitoline

Next a lofty island is sighted whose outflung pennant proclaims its proud title "The Delphic Literary Society." Disembarking we wander among the monuments of its past annual achievements till in the middle of the isle we read this brief tribute.

"At our first meeting, last fall, we found that we had returned to school with twenty-five members. Our advisor, Mr. Rowe, however, had entered the business world and left us to our tender mercies. It was not long until we secured 'Daddy' Wentz, the new Dean of Boys, to take Mr. Rowe's place. Mr. Wentz has been a success in every way, helping us with his straightforward, heart to heart advice and doing much to revive the old Delphic spirit.

"We have made a name for ourselves in every activity this year. Athletics found Burtle and Bansbach on the football team, Fowler on the basketball team, Crook and Jaquith representing us in tennis, and Stephens as Junior Football Manager. Armbruster, Baker, Fowler, and McKinnie acted in the class play. Graham, McIntire, Taylor, and Wilson made the varsity debate team. Crook was President of the Senate; McIntire, President of the Senior Class; Burtle, President, and Munn, Secretary of the Junior Class. Baker was Advertising Manager of the 'Capitoline.' Wilson and Stephens played in the band and French in the orchestra. Thus we were well represented in every activity.

"Inter-society rivalry was especially keen this year but the Delphics managed to get the best of things. We beat the Wranglers 3-0 in football and our debate team won the Parent-Teachers Association cup by outpointing the Philos, Les Bas, and Thalias.

"Socially, the year has been very successful. We opened the fall season with a dance, October 30. The black and gold decorations made the House-keeping Suite a lovely place to dance in and the affair was well attended. Again, on March 20, we gave our Mid-Season Dance which was another success.

"Thus another year has gone on the records of Springfield High School as a successful one for the Delphic Literary Society."

The Capitoline

As the swift breezes speed our craft onward we come upon another island. It is the home of the Philomachians. Disembarking, the good captain asks, "Of what achievements can you tell us? And what have been the pleasures of the past year?" The Philos answer:

"The year was begun by torturously turning our pledges into good Philos. Then we proceeded with our program of plays, debates, readings and musicales.

"The society is the highest in scholarship. We have also given members to many school activities. Charlotte Coats was Circulation Manager of the Capitoline. The Capitoline sub-staff included Caroline Becker, Betty Jane Gehlman, Pauline Hunn, Frances Partridge and Alma Lola Whitney. We were represented on the varsity debate team and in the Class Play. Mary Elizabeth Beck and Pauline Hunn played in the Orchestra. Roselyn Beam, Marian Simonson, Leota Fratcher and Donna Neuman were Senators. Caroline Becker held the position of Vice President of the Senior Class.

"At Christmas we prepared a basket for a needy family. Two story hours were held at the Lincoln Library.

"We procured a memory book in which we have bound our dearest remembrances, relics of former families and history over which future Philos may pore.

"Our Alumnae made the Yule season merry with a charming dance at Lincoln Inn. February saw us with our friends from neighboring isles tripping lightly at the Philo Phrolie. Then our mothers joined with us in two parties. At Easter time the Alumnae and active members met again at the annual banquet. The Senior party concluded our happy year."

The Capitoline

During her voyage the ship Capitoline came into port at the island of Les Bas Bleus to hear her report on activities during the year 1925-1926. The ship was joyfully received because of the pleasant memories of her annual visit.

A successful and interesting year had been in progress. The programs consisted of plays, short stories, and musical numbers.

Les Bas participated in the Inter-Society Debate, but when debating with the Delphics, were unable to convince the judges that their view was the right one, and thus, were disqualified for the cup.

Two story hours at the Lincoln Library were taken by Les Bas.

At Christmas they gave their Christmas basket to an interesting and needy family.

Their Matinee Dance and Spring Dance were well attended and enjoyed by all.

Les Bas gave a party for their Mothers on the Thursday before Mothers Day.

The last meeting of the year was a picnic at Washington Park where officers for the coming year were chosen.

Much of the success of this year is due to their advisors, Miss Hager and Miss Gard.

Cruising along we came upon the Hi-Y isle and all disembarked. The cleanliness of the isle was a pleasure to all.

After seeing the isle, about twenty decided to become inhabitants. They were put through a two week's exciting initiation. The first accomplishment of the club was to entertain the boys of the Home of the Friendless. For the first time in its history the Hi-Y club entered the Inter-Society debate. Its representatives, John Schenk, Frank Baker and Cassius Cain set sail for the Betas island and came home with three good boilers. The next week they journeyed over to the Thalian island where their three boilers burst.

Springfield Hi-Y Club joined with the Jacksonville and other Hi-Y Clubs in a five county Older Boy's Conference. The Hi-Y island is the largest of the boy islands having forty-four inhabitants. During the year they were led in group discussion by H. P. Scott on problems which an older boy must face. The Swastika and the Hi-Y Clubs combined one evening and had their meeting at the Y. W. C. A. Several times during the year some of the faculty journeyed over to the island and gave them talks on interesting subjects.

During the year the Hi-Y's have tried to instill in the minds of the student body the meaning of the four planks of the Hi-Y Club, Clean Living, Clean Speech, Clean Athletics, and Clean Scholarship.

Mr. Cox, the faculty advisor and D. O. Needham of the Y. M. C. A. have been important factors in the Hi-Y's success.

The next isle was soon reached. Disembarking the enthusiastic voyagers found that the Swastika Club is a member of the national organization of Girl Reserves under the direction of the Young Women's Christian Association. The group is six years old and at present has more than fifty members. This membership is composed of Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors.

The aim of the club is to develop character. The purpose is to find and give the best by living up to Christian ideals, by promoting genuine friendliness, by standing for honor in work and play, by maintaining an honest effort for good scholarship, and by finding ourselves in the service of others.

The Club's accomplishments have varied throughout the year. They entertained the crippled children of St. John's Sanitarium and presented them with toys. Seven girls were sent to a conference of Scouts. Two girls will be sent to the National Conference this summer. A play, "Petticoat Lane" was presented in an assembly, the entire club taking part. The same program was repeated at the Y. W. C. A. some time later.

The club closed its year with the realization of its purpose. Miss Ruth McKinnie, the advisor, ably assisted the club in all its undertakings.

We soon reached a new island known as the Elgethans, so called from an Indian word meaning "worthiness." As the ship "Capitoline" came to port the following record of the club was submitted.

The club was very successful although the membership was small, due to the club being organized this year. Despite the small membership jolly good times prevailed. The girls worked hard to create interest in the club and succeeded in raising the membership to twenty-two.

Chevrons for the arm bands are obtained by earning ten points in each of the following purposes of the club: Health, Service, Knowledge and Spirit.

Several parties and entertainments were given during the year. This helped to develop an interest in the club.

At the regular meetings each of the four purposes of the club were emphasized. Some of the meetings were held out doors and were greatly enjoyed.

Miss Nix, the advisor, was an enthusiastic helper and aided greatly in the development of the organization.

The Capitoline

We next visited an Amazonic Island, the first and last we saw. The Amazons related to us how their Government had progressed the past year.

Small books were provided each girl, called "point" books. In these books the girl is given space to record her points made on hikes, basketball, ice-skating, golf, swimming, volley ball, horse back riding, and field hockey. The girl receiving the required 100 points received a letter "O" and when 500 points were made or five "O's," the girl was presented with a white sweater. No girl progressed very far as one third of the points had to be made in the Club.

In the "Fall" several hikes of distance were taken with weiner roasts at the end of their hikes.

Two basket ball teams were organized and were called Team One and Team Two, with captains respectively, Edna Kirkwood and Virginia Geatz.

In the Spring, Miss Mather coached the girls in field hockey, a most interesting and new game to most of the members. As the game was very new, captains or teams were not chosen permanently.

In May, a Matinee dance was held, which turned out to be a huge success. The Mothers party, given in the same month, was enjoyed by all.

The last meeting of the year was an entertainment given by the retiring club officers and a picnic was the last and parting word.

The Olympic Club has progressed greatly under the kind guidance and wise supervision of Miss Dickerson, the advisor.

The Capitoline

The next stop was the Beta Island where the islanders presented this report to the "Capitoline."

The membership is composed entirely of girls who are interested in studying together some portion of the Bible. Under the leadership of Miss Lois Aurelius, they studied the life of the early Jews from the Book of Genesis.

But they have done other things beside study and conduct discussions. At Thanksgiving time they gathered supplies together and gave several baskets of food to needy families. Following out the idea of Christmas time they each brought toys to the Xmas party. These toys were later given several poor kiddies.

At Christmas and Easter special programs were presented. During the latter part of May a Mother's and Daughter's party was given. Then as the year drew to a close and time for departure drew near, they became carefree to spend a day picnicing with the departing Seniors. This picnic ended the work for the year.

And now fellow students they bid you farewell and wish you a safe journey to the next port.

The next isle we approached was a musical isle. Its name is the Junior Etude Music Club.

It was organized October 14, 1924, sponsored by the morning Etude and the music department of the Springfield High School.

The course of study as outlined by the national bureau for the advancement of music has been followed throughout the season of 1925-26.

For two years, the members of the Junior Etude have sponsored the singing of Christmas carols at St. John's hospital on Christmas eve.

On February 21, the club presented a program in the Christian Church complimentary to Morning Etude.

Two attractive programs have been given during Music week, one at the high school and the other at the Y. W. C. A. Each year an excellent spring festival program has been presented in the High School auditorium.

Throughout the year, a music memory contest has been conducted. Mrs. W. E. Robinson offering prizes of Amateur Musical better class of music and to give pleasure to others. Already, many students have been benefited by the club and it is the hope of these members that the club will grow to be one of the finest organizations of the high school.

The Capitoline

A new uncharted island in our course surprised us. The Sea of Organizations had acquired a new isle which was named L'Histoire. The name was taken from the French meaning "story." The club was formed for the purpose of telling stories in the various community centers.

The first year has been an unusual success considering that the society is in its infancy and that its activities are different from any others before tried in the High School.

The program has been varied, consisting of plays, picnics, and parties.

The first important event was the Christmas party. Games and a grab bag formed the chief amusements.

On Monday, March 29, the club entertained the mothers. The social hour was spent in a musical program and in getting acquainted.

In May a farewell party was given for the Seniors, and in June a picnic was given at Washington Park.

For the benefit of the children at all the five community centers a play was given at the Arsenal in which every member took part.

Much of their success was due to the untiring efforts of their advisor, Mrs. Harriett.

The Capitoline

Now the good ship "Capitoline" anchors at the Isle of Radio, formerly known as the Radio Research Club.

Faculty Advisor D. C. Flemming had charge of the club and was assisted by Miss Nell Nollen. The club sought to gain more knowledge of radio by taking up the study of a course in radio and electricity prepared by Mr. Flemming. With the thought of building sets in mind, the club studied this radio course every Monday afternoon for about ten weeks. It was finally decided that everyone in the club, who cared to, could build a three circuit tuner radio, using three tubes and following the diagram made by Mr. Flemming. The rest of the first semester was spent in preparing to build these radio sets. Meanwhile the old unsightly aerial on the roof was torn down and a new and better built aerial was erected where it was not so noticeable from the ground.

At the beginning of the second semester the old officers were all re-elected.

The members of Mr. Flemming's Y. M. C. A. Radio class joined us in our meetings and also made sets. The club hopes to build a big radio set for the school some time in the near future.

Troop VIII in the two years time of its existence has thirty-two registered scouts in good standing. When the good ship "Capitoline" put into harbor at their island this past year they found twelve registered a second time and eleven of them second class scouts, working steadfastly under their able captain Mrs. Blanche Dunlap, for first class recognition.

The inhabitants on the island known as Girl Scout Troop No. II, organized in September 1925. Early in the second semester two older troops, four and five, were combined with it to form one. It has now thirty-one members. Since it was so newly organized, the troop has not had many chances to distinguish itself as yet. However, the troop won first prize for the best decorated table at Scout Rally, December 21. It also claims the distinction of having the only bugler among Springfield Girl Scouts.

The Capitoline

About a year ago an island known as the Unity Club was renamed the Unity Girl Reserves, followed by a complete change of regime. Their progress has been rapid under interested and capable officers. On our visit we were surprised at their multi-activities. Tho this young organization is small in number they have enjoyed well worth-while literary programs, a series of lectures on popular subjects, hikes, parties, receptions, and have given a number of plays. These achievements could not have been accomplished if it were not for our most able and loved advisor, Mrs. Alice Taborn, and the help given by Mrs. Logan Hay and Miss Burnham.

On every island in the Sea of Organizations there is one, or sometimes two of the personnel of the good ship "Capitoline" who exercise a general protectorate over their youthful inhabitants. Their functions are numerous and distinctly varied. They are responsible for the morals, character and activities of their groups. They devote their time and energy with no other recompense than the everlasting gratitude of the club members. They are "the men behind the guns."

The Arts

Mr. Patrick

Miss Mueller

Miss Soulman

Mr. Bickel

Music Directors

Mr. Patrick has this year improved the band and developed a second band. A great deal of his work is in Central but in both buildings he is well known and admired. His success is due to his ability and his understanding of people.

Miss Mueller has been very successful in her work with the chorus classes this year. The choruses which she trained were as always greatly enjoyed. Her work with the underclassmen is very essential to the success of the music department. The students are very sorry to lose her.

Miss Soulman came into our midst just this year and her arrival was hailed as an unusual piece of luck. Under her guidance the orchestra has improved immensely and even more is expected of it next year. She has already become a great favorite and it is hoped that she will remain with us for some time.

Mr. Bickel as director of the Glee Clubs is also new in the department this year. Under his training the Glee Clubs presented the Operetta "Pickles" which was a most successful production. His pleasing personality makes him an asset to the department.

Band

One of the most important elements in the department of entertainment of the ship was the band, directed by Mr. Patrick.

The most important step in the development of the band during the past year has been the organization of a Second or Reserve Band. The combined organizations number about 100 members.

This year the following band members received the Band Medal given all graduating members of the Band: Jesse Neill, Theron Neill, Lyle Baugh, Paul Dirksen, John Kochendorfer. In each of these, we, that remain may recall an example of loyalty and fine musicianship.

During the past school year the Band has appeared before the public in over 56 engagements.

In competition Springfield placed second for a $200 prize at the State Fair Contest. In the State Contest where 15 bands entered in Class A at the University of Illinois Springfield entered for the first time. They placed sixth, just two points under second place. In the Central Illinois High School Conference the Band placed first for the second time in two years.

Orchestra

The next stop was at the Orchestra Isle which ranks highly in the musical group.

The Springfield High School Orchestra has enjoyed a very successful season. Under the inspiring supervision of Miss Soulman, the orchestra has expanded into eighty-six members, fifty in the Senior and thirty-six in the Junior Orchestra.

The orchestra's crowning success came with the winning of first place in the Big Twelve Orchestra Contest, due chiefly to Miss Soulman's perfect interpretation, aided ably by the loyal contributions of the members of the orchestra.

Springfield has revived under the inspiring leadership of Miss Soulman the interest in orchestra that music lovers of Springfield feared our school had sacrificed to develop our splendid band. Springfield High School music circles are happy over this revival for the school has room and talent for both the band and orchestra.

The orchestra has offered other delightful things to the students of S. H. S. It furnished the music for the musical comedy "Pickles;" the special orchestra, composed of eight stringed instruments, played interludes for "The Rock" and the Senior Class Play, "Turn To The Right;" it served as an accompaniment for the grade school piano demonstration and grade school cantata, "Alice in Wonderland," and played the commencement march at the graduation exercises of the June Class of '26. Besides this it has offered several delightful numbers for programs of a number of assemblies.

With such an excellent record for the past, the orchestra has still greater and better hopes for the future.

“Pickles”

“Pickles”—“pickles”—59 varieties of Pickles, “I Can’t Get Along Without Jimmy” and “Pictures by Moonlight” were the prevalent tunes echoing thru the portholes of the good ship “Capitoline” for weeks after the Glee Club’s production of “Pickles” or “In Old Vienna” in the salon March 16 and 17.

Student criticism is, too often superlative and we believe the following by one of Springfield’s noted critics will justify the labor of the Glee Clubs and their director.

“Two great audiences came to Springfield High School’s matinee and evening performances of a three-act operetta and observed that the high school’s musical and dramatic affairs are developing under fortunate organization and conditions.

“The true foundation and prime stabilizers for such music-dramatic work are the student orchestra of about thirty-five players and the ‘singing choruses’ which maintain the finest imaginable vocal quality thru-out the performance. Herbert G. Bickel as chief and Miss Ruth Soulman as alternate conductor, are responsible for the great mainstays of the system. Credit for the artistic work and dancing goes to Miss Helen Janet Smith.”

Boys Glee Club

Yea, as the good ship Capitoline swung into the harbor, none other than the Boys Glee Club greeted the passengers. The boys attained their fame through "Oley Speaks," a well known song. But they have not only sung "Mandaley," they have interpreted such selections as "My Little Banjo," "Estudiontino," "The Bells of St. Mary's" and "Winter Song," in fact a number of melodies ranging from negro spirituals to the songs of Spain and the Orient.

On the cruise of the Capitoline they entertained the student body frequently, and made public appearances at the following places: Radio Show at Arsenal; P. T. A. at Dubois School; Masonic Lodge; Odd Fellows' Lodge; Laurel M. E. Church; Y. W. C. A., and Springfield High School P. T. A.

Then they took the cruisers to far off Vienna where the now famous musical comedy "Pickles" was laid. They chartered a special boat for a side trip to Bloomington to see the "Student Prince," and many are the tales the rest of the cruisers heard about this late jaunt. Pilots for the Glee Club were numerous:

Mr. Dale Haven came in September and had charge of both Glee Clubs until December 23rd.

Mrs. Ruth Stinson Leka held the helm from January 6th to January 15th.

Last, but not least, Herbert G. Bickel came in January.

Girls Glee Club

Squeak, Squark, awk, spt,—listen closely. The Girls Glee Club broadcasted from station S. H. S.

As the ship lay at anchor on November 11, these choristers lifted up their voices in praise of the World War heroes under the direction of their leader, Mr. Haven.

Outside the waves leaped high as the ship rolled and tossed. Inside all was merriment "For gaiety shall prevail" said the Great Ferrié Kinski as the comic opera "Pickles" was presented under the direction of Mr. Bickel.

Nor was the serious side lacking for a vespers program was given as the golden sun sank low over the calm and hazy sea.

As the ship neared her destination, the club participated in the Big Twelve Conference.

Last but not least the Glee Club chartered a boat to Bloomington and attended the opera "The Student Prince."

Christmas Chorus

The sweet strains of over five hundred clear young voices entertained us at various times on our journey. These voices have been trained long and arduously for the various programs that they have presented.

Their leading program was the Twilight Recital given in the S. H. S. auditorium on December 13. This program was arranged in two parts—the first consisted of old Christmas carols whose beauty, time and familiarity made them most appealing to all; the second part, of a cantata “The King of Kings” by Daviess. Particular emphasis was placed on expression in the working out of the cantata and the effect was very beautiful.

The hidden choruses of “Why the Chimes Rang”, the Christmas play, were selected from this group.

Another noteworthy accomplishment of these songsters was their singing at the Pageant in the Community Christmas Celebration at the arsenal.

Their work was not wholly centered in singing. Besides the performances, the students studied the different types of music, folk and national songs and various lovely choruses by the great masters of music. This appreciation of music course has been given an important part with a detailed study of the Orchestra and Opera.

The Sophomores can always look back with gratification to this year's work in the chorus class. To Miss Mueller is given great credit for their success. It is due to her untiring efforts that so much has been accomplished by the Sophomore Chorus.

Freshman Glee Club

Under the careful leadership and able directing of Miss Moore the Freshman Glee Club has grown to the size of thirty-two members. They were very successful presenting the operetta "The Last Tea of Tsuki," by Walliser and Elias Blum.

The scene is laid in a Japanese garden. A famous poet invited his pupils to a tea before dawn. It was the season of Tsuki, the waning moon. As usual during the drinking of the tea the guests sat in meditation and from time to time recited their latest poems. All expected a poem from their master but as the moon sank a nightingale began singing in the garden and they realized that the poet had invited them there for his last tea.

MISS LOMELINO

May Festival

The annual May Festival of the girls physical training department under the direction of Miss Lomelino was presented May 21, 1926.

In the first part, Pauline Hunn, chosen from the Senior Class by all the school, was crowned queen of the May, one of the loveliest who has ever graced the throne. The queen dressed in white and carrying a large bouquet was attended by Elizabeth French, the maid of honor; Florence Ables, Betty Souther, Henrietta Hofferkamp, Rosalyn Beam, Helen Mulford and Jeanette O'Brien. Drills followed the crowning of the queen.

The second part of the program was made up of the dance pantomime of Cinderella. In the first scene the step-sisters leave for the princess ball, laughing disdainfully at Cinderella's request to accompany them. The cat, her only friend, endeavors to cheer her. The fairy Godmother appears and summons four fair maids to dress Cinderella. At the dance the prince shows her special favor by giving her the coveted nose-gay and dancing with her. The sisters cause much amusement when dancing with the courtiers. When the revelry is at its height Cinderella makes her escape. The next morning the slipper is tried on the sisters and many dancers in vain. Finally, Cinderella is discovered, recognized by the prince and with six little bridesmaids they rejoice and receive the homage of the court.

Nona Walgren made a very graceful Cinderella and Helen Mc Taggart, a charming prince. Lorraine Cox and Helen George caused much amusement. Florence Ables was a very gracious godmother. Members of the gym classes were the other characters.

The May Festival was one of the most successful entertainments of the season; the result of the team-work of Miss Lomelino, Miss Mather and Miss Lasch, and the co-operation of classes.

MISS ROURKE

Drama Class

Under the able leadership of Miss Rourke a group of our passengers studied dramatics from the standpoint of actors, directors, stage designers, stage and property managers, play writers and critics. They presented several plays to their own group and gave five big plays to the entire group. The class prepared all its own settings and many of the costumes. They were also very kind in helping others by presenting their minor plays when their services were needed. They studied drama, its types and forms—Pre-Ibsenian and Modern. Tho they had to work early and late they enjoyed the course to its fullest extent.

Miss Rourke's training at the Chicago University, University of Illinois and the Columbia College of Expression, coupled with her natural talents has made her a most successful director and teacher. Because of her charming personality and her capability and leadership she drew out the best from her students and made a great success of every production.

“A Midsummer Night’s Dream” was presented to the passengers of the good ship “Capitoline” in the afternoon and evening of December 3, 1925. Because of Miss Rourke’s capable directing, the excellent interpretation of the characters by the actors, the graceful dancing of Miss Lomelino’s fairies and the beautiful settings and lighting, it was unusually successful. It was the first Shakespearian play presented by a drama class of Springfield High School.

The Senior Class Play, “Turn to the Right” a comedy in three acts was presented on April 9 and 10, for the entertainment of those aboard. The success of the production was as always, largely due to Miss Rourke’s skilful and patient directing. The interpretation of the characters was excellent and the play went off both nights with sparkle. The scenes were unusually difficult to handle but the difficulties were ably met by the Drama Class. A new landscape drop was added to the stage properties of the ship.

“The Rock” a play in three acts was given April 23 and 27, 1926, one of the finest presentations ever staged by the Drama Class despite the fact that it was one of the most difficult. Again we give credit to the untiring efforts of Miss Rourke and the actors.

MISS GRAHAM

Debate

Springfield High School has always held an enviable position in state debating activities. This year finds it at the very top, and deservedly so. S. H. S. started the season with a new coach and practically new material—a combination which is not ordinarily an effective banner to championship hopes. Miss Elizabeth Graham set out to prove the exception to the rule; to build a group of logical, dependable, and quick-witted speakers who could match any other team in the state. Perhaps, at the beginning of the long grind of training, she felt that her teams would do as they have,—perhaps she did not expect such promising results; but at any rate she resolved to bring out the best that was in them, and surely she was successful. Of course not every group that Miss Graham put on the speaker's stand gained that most elusive and arbitrary symbol of success—the judge's decision; but the fact remains that every person did his best. Miss Graham's tireless efforts have developed for S. H. S. a splended group of debaters.

The debaters are chosen by a process of elimination. The value of the debating class is to give the students who are interested in debate a chance to develop along that line. Miss Graham and her class have one big purpose and that is to receive training in public speaking. It enables the person to express himself well and with ease before an audience.

The debate squad, without a doubt, has spent more time and more energy in its work than has any other group representing the school. From October to May it worked steadily in research, writing and practice. Hours upon hours of work, every day in the week for almost the entire school year, was the lot of the debater but our team has stuck to it and won. We are proud of them.

Debate Summary

Fourteen people were awarded debate letters this year—the largest number awarded for one year. Four were Seniors, two of whom, Pauline Hunn and Margaret Black, won letters last year. The other two Seniors were Day McIntyre and Helen Mulford.

The Big Twelve affirmative who met Jacksonville on the Aviation question were: Helen Mulford, Clarence Fleischli, William Wines, with Freeman Butts as alternate.

The Big Twelve negative consisting of Stewart Wilson, Henry Barber, Captain Hugh Graham, with Agnes McCluskey, alternate met Decatur. All were Juniors.

The Child Labor affirmative, winners of the district championship, consisted of June Whitson, whose place was later taken by Margaret Black, Robert Fitzgerald, sophomore, and Captain Day McIntyre. They debated Bloomington, Dwight, Riverside and Newton, and were never defeated.

The Child Labor negative, who went through the Illinois Debating League, consisted of Pauline Hunn, Theodore Taylor, whose place was taken by Hugh Graham and Billy Meteer, captain. This team debated Bloomington, Normal, Pekin, and Newton, losing three out of twelve judges, two to Pekin, and one to Newton.

Alternates were carried for every member in the State Contest. Affirmatives were: Freeman Butts, captain; Stewart Wilson and Helen Marx, negatives, Clarence Fleischli, captain; Gertrude O'Brien and Helen Mulford.

Theodore Taylor was killed before the State Championship. Out of tribute to him the teams wore black arm bands in the State Debates. The Alternates wore tabs of black ribbon, as did the coach and manager.

Miss Elizabeth Graham was coach and Mr. Lyman K. Davis, manager.

Pekin tied with Springfield for State Championship. A dual meet was arranged for May 18, when S. H. S. won the State Championship by securing five of the possible six judges.

The Capitoline Staff

The good ship "Capitoline" has entered port. Her staff of officers have guided her from island to island of various activities. With Mr. Schulz as advisor and manager, the various staff members have carried out their individual responsibilities.

When necessary, with a co-operation very fine and admirable, they pulled together, that the ship might run more smoothly. They have worked willingly and unceasingly. They worked individually if the task required an individual, collectively if group action was needed. They could lead or follow, which ever was necessary.

Realizing that social meetings would increase their business efficiency they enjoyed several parties at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Schulz.

The theme of the book, an imaginary sea voyage, served as an inspiration to the staff. With spirit and enthusiasm the theme was worked out during the long siege of sustained work. Each member of the staff carried out his part of the workings of the ship. The cargo is one worthy of praise, the result of careful loading, selection of the best and as a result the good ship Capitoline entered harbor, the reflection of the fine work done by her masters—the staff.

High School Bulletin

The Bulletin was proud to reserve cabin passage on the good ship "Capitoline." The Bulletin is one of the oldest institutions of the school though it has changed garbs frequently. It began as a monthly, in fact was an ancestor of the year book; then it became a weekly. As a weekly its size and shape varied from six by eight to its present full newspaper size.

The Bulletin owes its success for the year 1925-26 to the following:

Miss Wilcox, who with the journalism class has made and kept the paper an up to date publication.

Mr. Schulz, whose efficient leadership as business manager has put our paper on a business basis, has made it pay for itself and has insured its future success.

Mr. Kavanaugh, who has taken Mr. Schulz's place, has already shown his ability to efficiently manage and carry on the work started by Mr. Schulz.

Mr. Duke, the shop superintendent who left us in February was very much missed by all. We feel however that Mr. Jabusch has filled his place in a thoroughly competent manner.

Through their co-operation and that of others of the advertising, business and circulation staffs and of the printing classes, the Bulletin is a success in every respect.

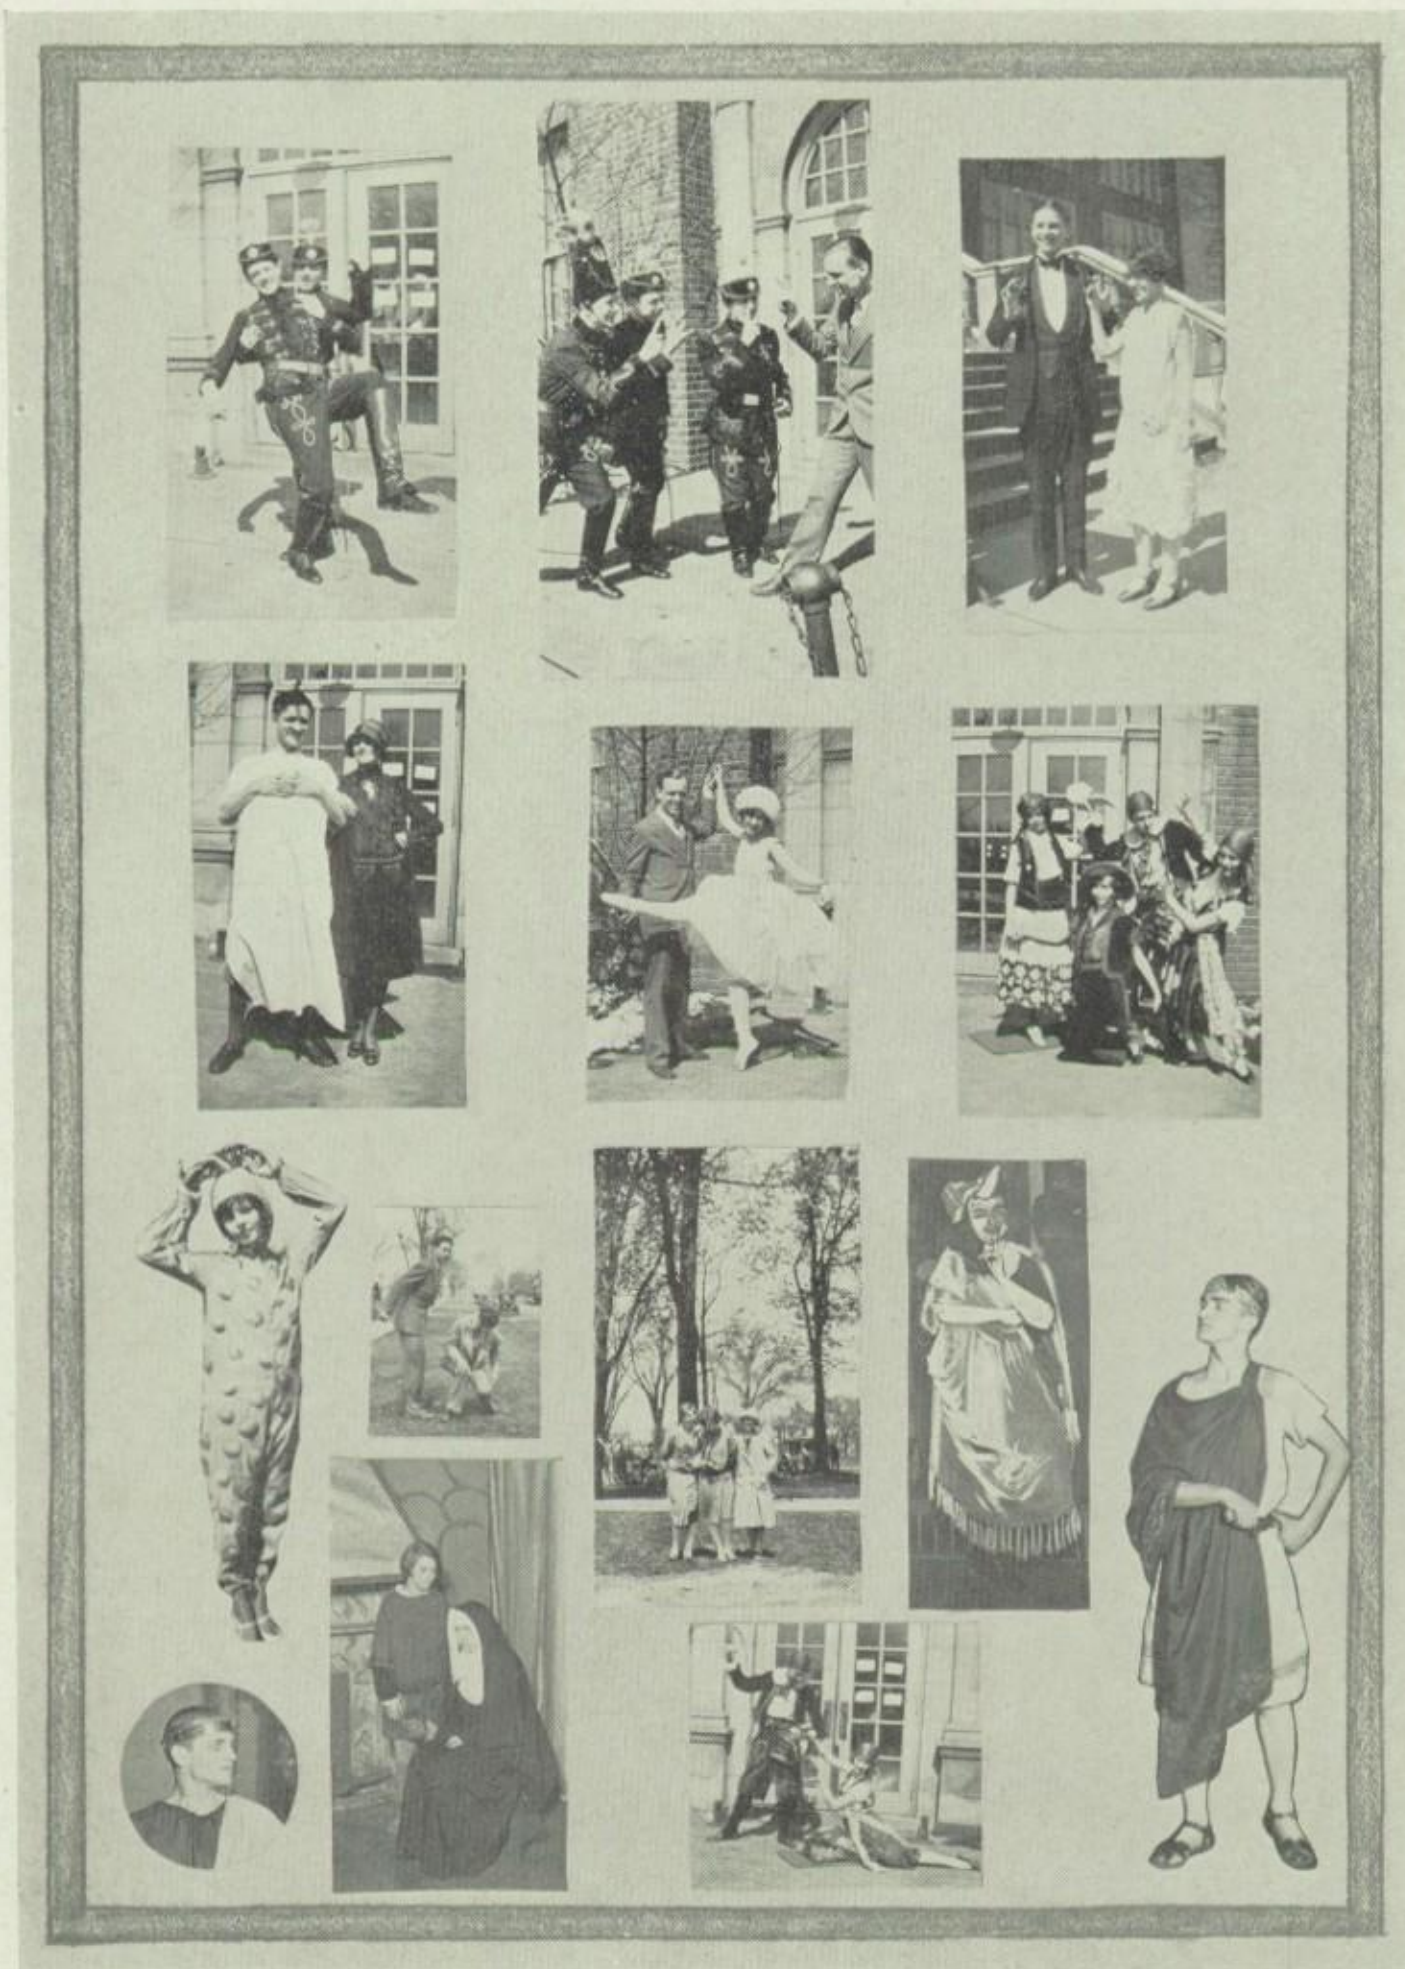

For the future, prospects are very promising, continually striving upward to a higher goal.

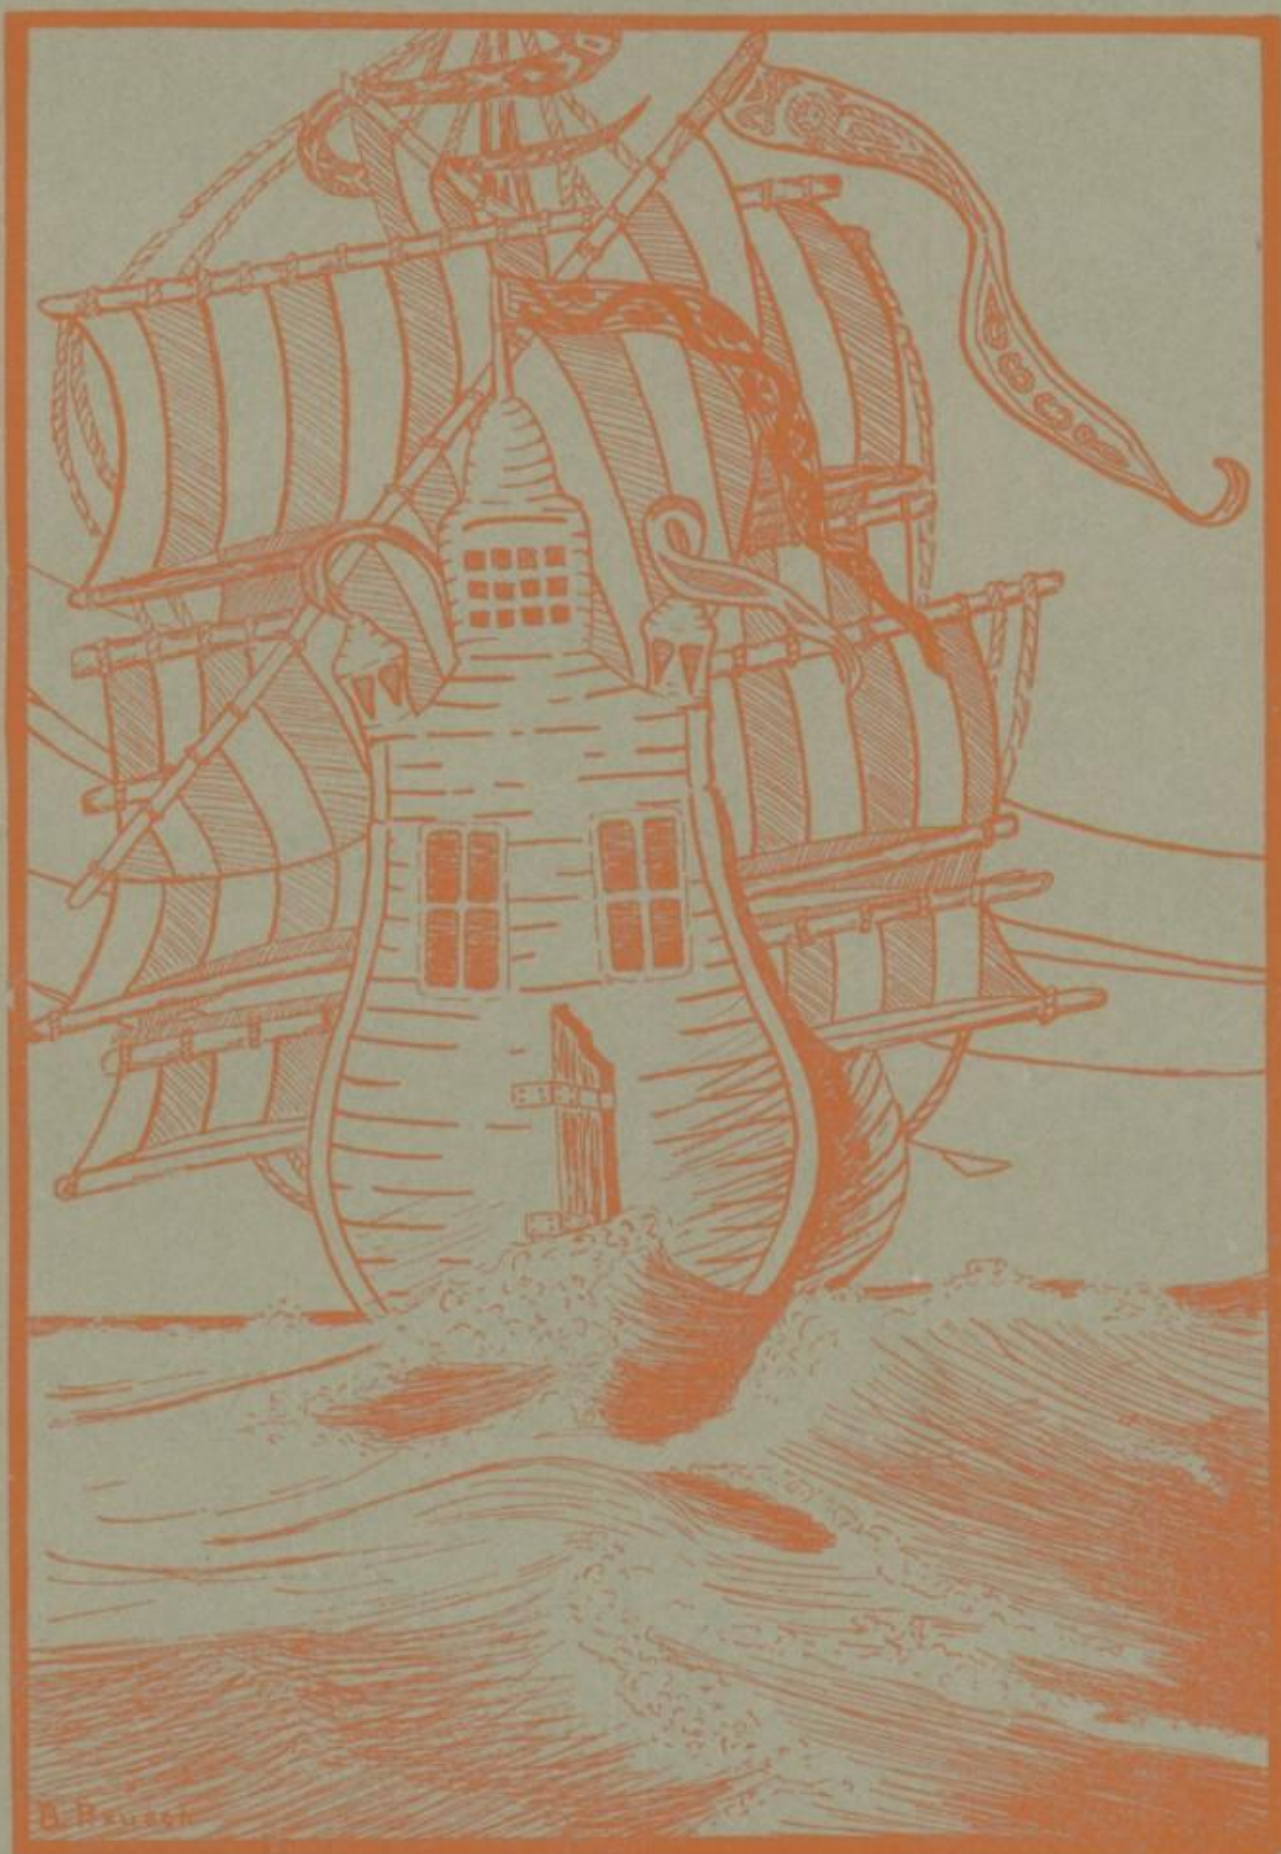

The Bulletin's aim is to present an accurate account of the events of the week in S. H. S. To this end the Journalism class which edits the paper concentrates its efforts. This group of students contribute as much to the School's best representation as any other organization. They spend much of their time after school in securing the news and in writing it in true newspaper style.

Much of the success of the Bulletin is due to the splendid work of the student staff. The five advertising solicitors, Carl Thoma, Loren Whitfield, Mark Roberts, Frank Wiesenmeyer and Rayburn Shutt have seen that the advertising space was filled. The two business assistants, Elvin Church and Richard Dunseth have been responsible for the financial standing of the paper and their work has been accomplished efficiently. Elmer Bruner mailed all outside subscriptions and through Elmer Tomlinson's efforts the type was in the print shop on time. Marilla McCoy had charge of subscriptions and Elizabeth Templeman the circulation.

It has been through the efforts of both the Journalism Class and the Staff that the Bulletin has been such a success this year.

Athletics

Coach Royal

Coach Royal has now been with us for two years in which he has shown us his ability to coach and direct athletics.

He came to us two years ago from Fon du Lac, Wisconsin where he had a successful year of coaching. Mr. Royal attended the University of Illinois where he was taught the principles of coaching under the famous Bob Zuppke. He also played on Zuppke's football squad in 1922. Royal attended Rollins College.

Mr. Royal has had a most successful year in football, winning 7 of the 8 games played, and he was fairly successful during the time he coached basketball. In track his teams always score points.

As swimming coach, Mr. Royal has proved an unusually able instructor. While he was attending the U. of I. Coach Royal was a member of the varsity swimming team and thus he could easily impart to his swimming team the knowledge he had acquired in this manner.

This member of the faculty is not only associated with varsity athletics but has given much attention to interscholastic sports.

Mr. Royal's success not only is in making good teams, but in making friendship with those that know him. All the students respect him.

Coach Huseth

"Mike" Huseth came to us from Douglas school where he had been a physical director. In his college days "Mike" was a stellar player on La Crosse's basketball team. Since he has been with us "Mike" has coached an unusually successful basketball team and is now the head of that branch of our athletic department. In addition to his basketball duties he will assist Coach Royal with the football squad next year. "Mike" is well liked by all.

Mr. Deffenbaugh

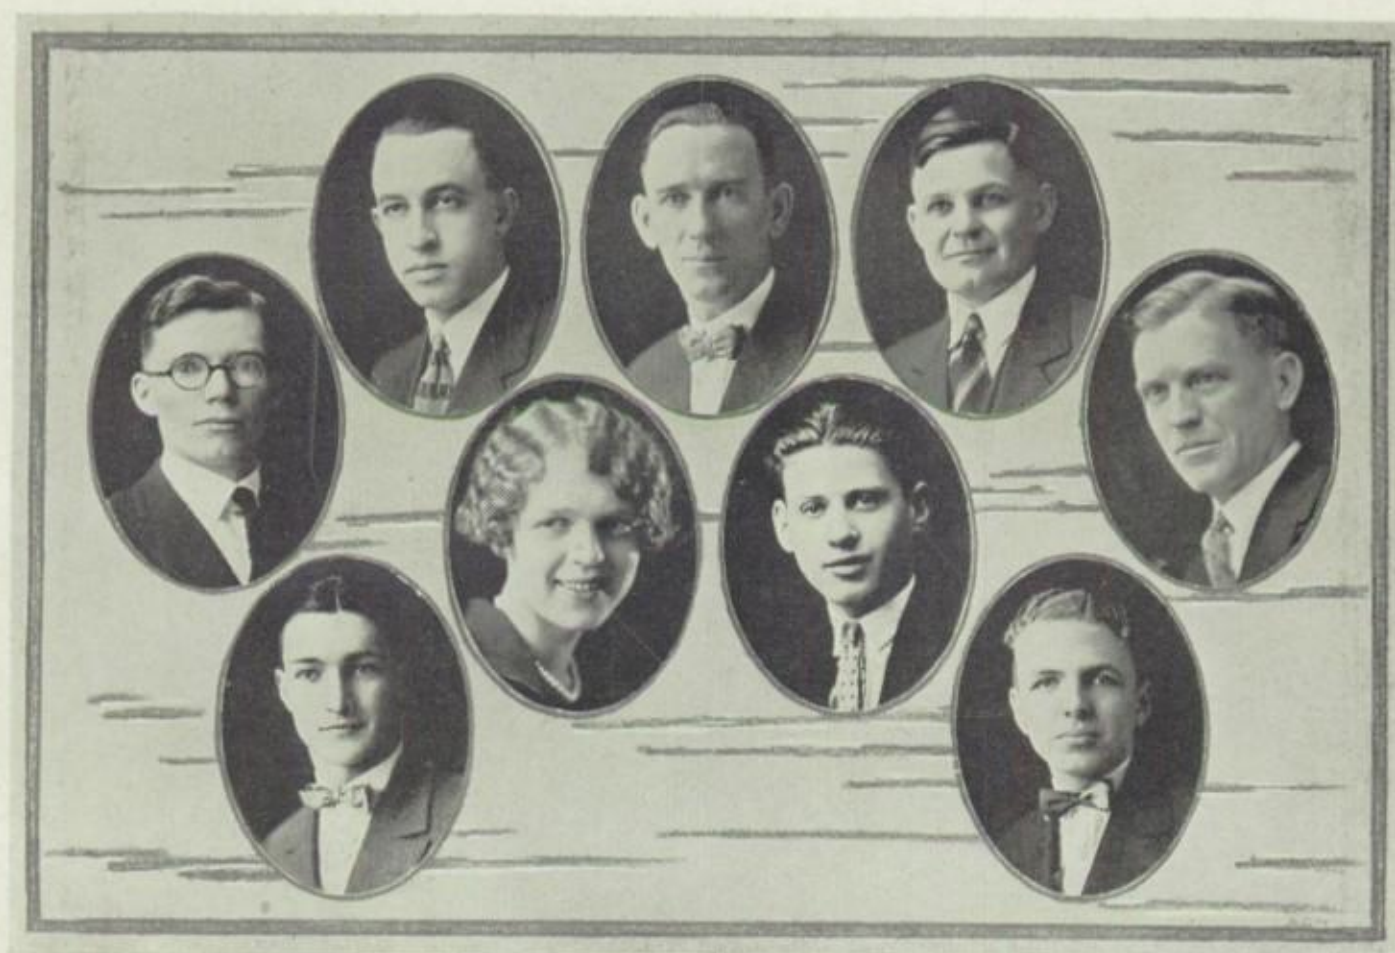

Again Mr. Deffenbaugh has proved his worth as a faculty manager. Last year he was appointed faculty manager of athletics and through his efforts the teams were well provided with equipment and under his supervision record breaking crowds attended the games. But this year through his hardest efforts Mr. Deffenbaugh has supplied even better equipment and better crowds.

Because he was a coach before he came to Springfield he could easily understand the needs of the teams and in this way he proved a very efficient and satisfactory manager.

Coach Roellig

Six years ago Mr. Roellig came to us as an assistant coach and physical director. Roellig has charge of baseball and assists in football and basketball. At La Crosse, the school he attended, Roellig was an athlete himself being captain of the football squad of 1918 which was the champion of the state.

The co-ordination of work between Royal and Roellig has proved that Roellig is an able mentor and dependable. Roellig's baseball teams are always successful, and he has produced two championship teams. The student and faculty body hold high their respects for Mr. Roellig, which can be proven by the fact that he has been with us six years.

The Athletic Board of Control is an organization composed of a group of the faculty and students. Their object primarily is to develop School Spirit. This is done by promoting the general interest of the students in athletics of all kinds. They plan the pep assemblies, make provisions for the crowds at the games and to a certain extent have charge of the expenditures. Their main accomplishment this year was the arrangement of reserved seats for the basketball games at the same price the student formerly paid for any seat.

The meetings were held irregularly but were called for a set purpose. With Mr. Deffenbaugh as chairman, the meetings always resulted in a definite plan for the further boosting of athletics.

Athletic "S" Club

The "S" Club started last year for the advancement or bettering of athletics in high school.

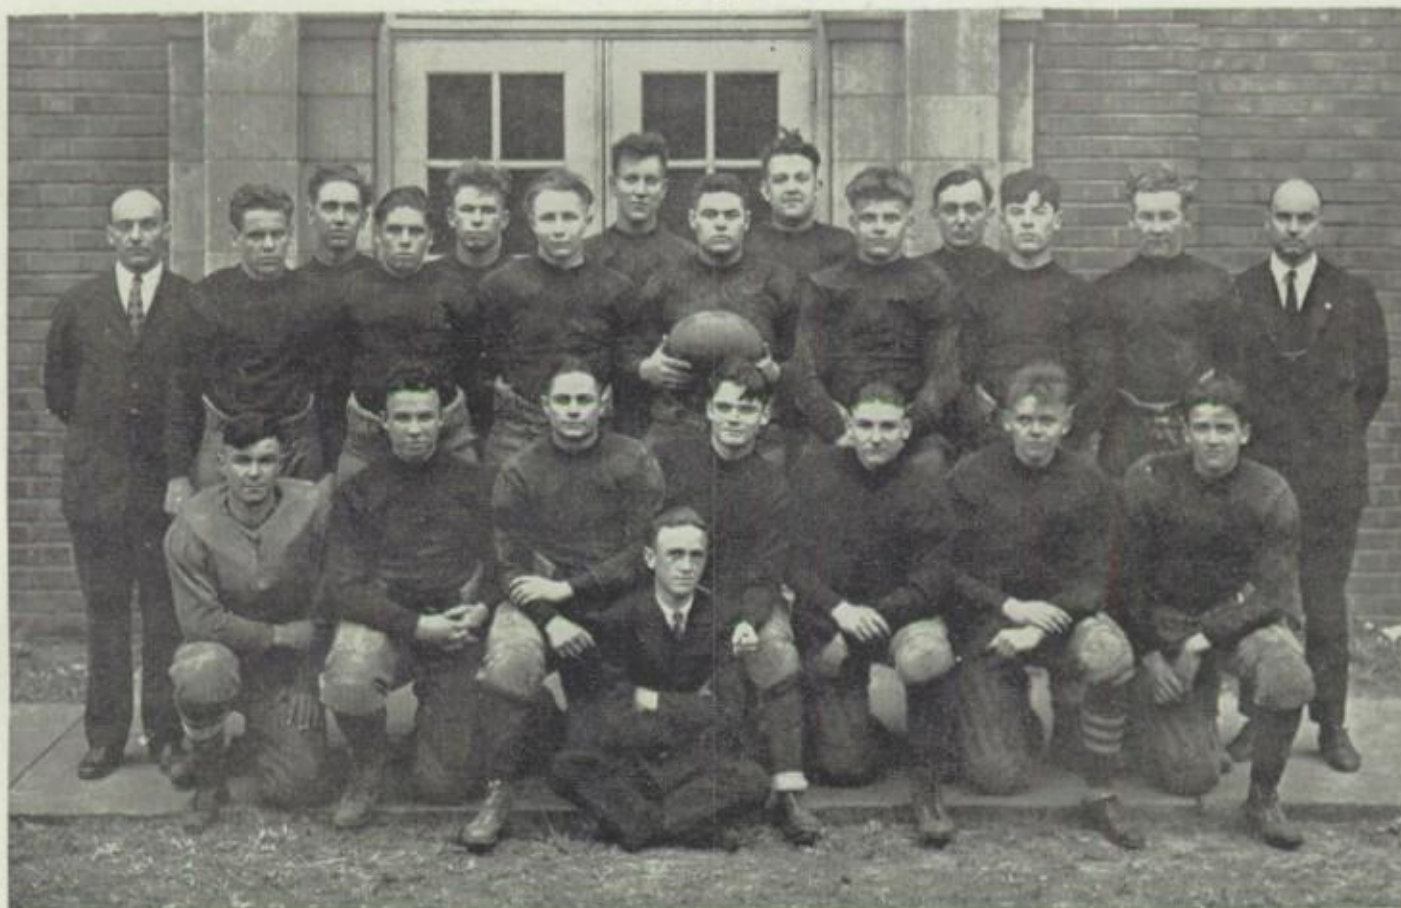

The members must have one letter in a major sport before they are admitted. They must also keep up the morale of the club.

Football

As the good ship "Capitoline" cast anchor off football isle, it found the team a highly successful one. The season of 1925 was the most successful in the annals of the school. The team won seven out of eight games played by hard, clean fighting which S. H. S. is noted for. The teams beaten were such teams as Peoria Central, Decatur, Jacksonville, Carlinville, Bowen of Chicago, Illinois School for the Deaf and Urbana. The team lost to Danville, who won the conference.

We should always give a good word for the scrubs who by their fight made the team what it really was.

The prospects for next year are not good by any means, as there are only two letter men left from which to build a team.

Summary of Games

17—S.H.S.; I.S.D.—0

The first adventure on the football island was a fast mixup with the I.S.D. School. Dame Fortune was with our boys so they came out on the heavy end of the 17-0 score.

3—S.H.S.; D.H.S.—7

This game with Danville was one of the season's hardest. Throughout all four periods of play the battle was hotly contested. It was during the last few minutes of play when victory was in our grasp that a long pass gave Danville the 7-3 win. This game was the only one of the season in which our goal was crossed.

20—S.H.S.; C.H.S.—0

For the first time since we have played Carlinville our boys trimmed the Macoupin aggregation. The success was due in large part to the brilliant play of Burtle and the snappy teamwork exhibited by all the players.

3—S.H.S.; U.H.S.—0

After availing themselves of a week's rest our boys sailed into Urbana High for a 3-0 win. In spite of the heavy field a large crowd of enthusiastic students attended and all were given a hair raising thrill when "Chunk" dropped a place kick between the posts during the last quarter for the only score of the 3-0 game.

6—S.H.S.; J.H.S.—0

Although several of their games were played on heavy fields this one at Jacksonville was the worst the boys encountered. Fortunately they waded thru the mud to a clean victory with a 6-0 score in spite of the poor local support.

8—S.H.S.; B.H.S.—0

Through the courtesy of the K. C. Athletic club we met Bowen High in the Senator's Ball Park. An unusually large crowd of students and Springfield Boosters witnessed our boys' triumph over one of the states best teams by an 8-0 score.

9—S.H.S.; P.C.H.S.—0

Our hardest game was with Peoria Central, who was running up 1000% average in the Big Twelve Conference. Our boys, playing their third game within a week, carried the Red and Black to a 9-0 victory over her heavy opponents.

8—S.H.S.; D.H.S.—0

The climax of the year came at Decatur and was witnessed by 300 local students who journeyed to Decatur to see our boys plow through the mud and rain to an 8-0 win.

Springfield finished the season with a total of 74 points against her opponents 7, and with her goal line crossed but once during the season. For all of our boys, except Burtle and Bansback, the Decatur game was their last for S. H. S.

ELMER "CHUNK" TOMLINSON

Pilot of the faithful crew. Elected All-State Center for two years. He was the spirit of the team.

JEROME "JERRY" BURTLE

Captain-elect of the crew. Burtle was a flashy half back who always broke through the line for a gain. He was a good broken field runner.

CASSIUS "BRAINS" CAIN

Without the "brains" of this student manager the team would not have succeeded.

JAMES "DADDY" PATIA

A guard who was the bulwark of S.H.S.'s defense. Too bad this was Jim's last year.

ROBERT "BOB" REES

A hard hitting tackle who was always in the fight.

ARCHIBALD "ARCHIE" HAYWOOD

"Archie" played a consistent game at right end. He took many forward passes for good gains.

JOHN "COACH" SCHENK

Another guard who helped form the "strongest line in the state." A good man.

JAMES "JIM" McDONALD

One of the best tackles S.H.S. has ever had. He always got his man.

EDWARD "MICK" LONDRIGAN

"Mick's" punting was superb. His end position enabled him to break up many forward passes and end runs.

ROBERT "BOB" SCHUSTER

A new man whose field generalship was remarkable. "Bob" was high point man of the season.

ARNOLD "ARNIE" TOMLINSON

A good fullback who always gave his best. He seldom failed to make a gain.

HARRY "SLEEPY" MOODY

Moody was a consistent ground gainer and frequently broke through with long runs.

DAVID "TINY" DEERWESTER

A hard fighting tackle who was good at defense or offense.

EMIL BANSBACH

Bansbach was the only sub half back to receive a letter. A good man for next year's team.

Basketball Summary

The basketball season of S. H. S. was not entirely a success. The team won three out of twelve games played. The team displayed fight and more often out-fought its opponents but could not hit the basket.

A little after midseason the team had a change of coaches which made it hard for the players but they showed great improvement. The sudden change in style held back the team and consequently could not be expected to defeat such teams as were played by the high school this year.

Coaches Royal and Huseth developed the boys and at the end of the season they were hitting their stride but they were a little too late.

The team was composed entirely of Seniors and this leaves a big vacancy next year, but this will be remedied by the fact that there are Junior and Sophomore teams and the substitutes for the varsity were mostly all underclassmen.

Although the team lost most of its games, it did well despite its being handicapped most of the season by several members being sick or injured, and at all times kept the opponents held to close scores.

Basketball Summary

22—S. H. S.; LINCOLN—17

The basketball season opened on December 11 only two weeks after the close of the football season. Our boys took a hard 22-17 game from Lincoln.

11—S. H. S.; BEARDSTOWN—14

Beardstown who had previously played 6 games opened the home season for the local basketeers. Playing the hardest game of the season the Royal-men suffered a severe setback due to injuries and sickness.

9—S. H. S.; ATHENS—31

A two weeks' holiday vacation failed to improve the S. H. S. cagers who went down under the fast Athens offensive.

14—S. H. S.; DECATUR—38

Because of their brains and brawn Decatur had little trouble in drubbing the locals by a count of 38-14.

19—S. H. S.; BLOOMINGTON—21

Bloomington played on the home court the following week end. The Red and Black cagers held a big lead until the final period when Bloomington's offense lost a close game for us.

24—S. H. S.; LINCOLN—13

For the second time during the season the entire first string men were in the lineup and they cleaned up the Lincolmites in flashy fashion.

18—S. H. S.; ATHENS—34

Victory was short lived, however, and the local basketeers went down to defeat at the hands of the Portermen by a 34-18 score.

24—S. H. S.; JACKSONVILLE—31

Jacksonville repeated her former victory by a 31-24 win over S. H. S.

11—S. H. S.; DECATUR—24

Under Huseh the locals dropped their first game to Decatur by a 24-11 score.

15—S. H. S.; CHAMPAIGN—13

Champaign, heretofore unbeaten and leader of the "Big Twelve" made our victory over her one of the most notable in local basketball history.

12—S. H. S.; PAWNEE—13

The district tourney was the final stumbling block for S. H. S. Fighting an uphill game Springfield lost the most exciting game of the tourney to Pawnee by a 12-13 score.

FRANK "ROWDY" DIRKSEN

Dirksen was a new man who certainly proved his worth at running guard. He was small but mighty and spoiled many a play that looked good.

EDWARD "MICK" LONDRIGAN

"Mick" had the old Red and Black fight. He was a classy looking forward and proved a great asset to the team.

WILLIAM "BILL" JAYNE

He was a reliable substitute and ever ready when called upon.

ROBERT "BOB" SCHUSTER

"Bob" was high point man of the year. He was the mainstay of the team who was always looking for more when the game ended.

WILLIAM "BILL" WIESSING

A steady player from start to finish. "Bill" started the game at back guard and finished at center. He will be missed from the lineup next year.

ELMER "CHUNK" TOMLINSON

"Chunk" played a steady game at back guard and kept the old Red and Black fight going.

Track

The track team has again come through with the old S. H. S. spirit and has another successful year to its credit.

When the season began there were only two letter and four underclassmen with varsity experience. But through perseverance and hard work Coach Royal had increased the number of letter men to ten by the end of the season.

Captain Coffinbarger was the outstanding man on the team and it was he who led the team to success in all of their six meets.

Track Summary

73—S. H. S.; DECATUR—53

The first competition of the year was a dual meet with Decatur in which Springfield took the large end of the $73\frac{2}{3}$ to $53\frac{1}{3}$ score.

MILLIKIN RELAY CARNIVAL

Our boys copped the two mile relay, a new distance and hung up a record of 9:14.

BIG TWELVE CONFERENCE

On May 11 Springfield was host at the State Fair Grounds to C. I. H. S. A. A. men and at the same time pulled down sixth place in the meet.

JACKSONVILLE DISTRICT MEET

Springfield placed third in the district meet and in this three of our men became eligible for the state meet.

STATE MEET AT URBANA

The State Meet is a "survival of the fittest." Captain "Coffee" proved his mettle by placing second in the half mile.

HAVANA RELAYS

More than forty of Illinois' strongest High Schools opposed the Red and Black in the Havana Relays. Coach Royal's team won the two mile relay against a large field.

LEROY COFFINBARGER (Captain)

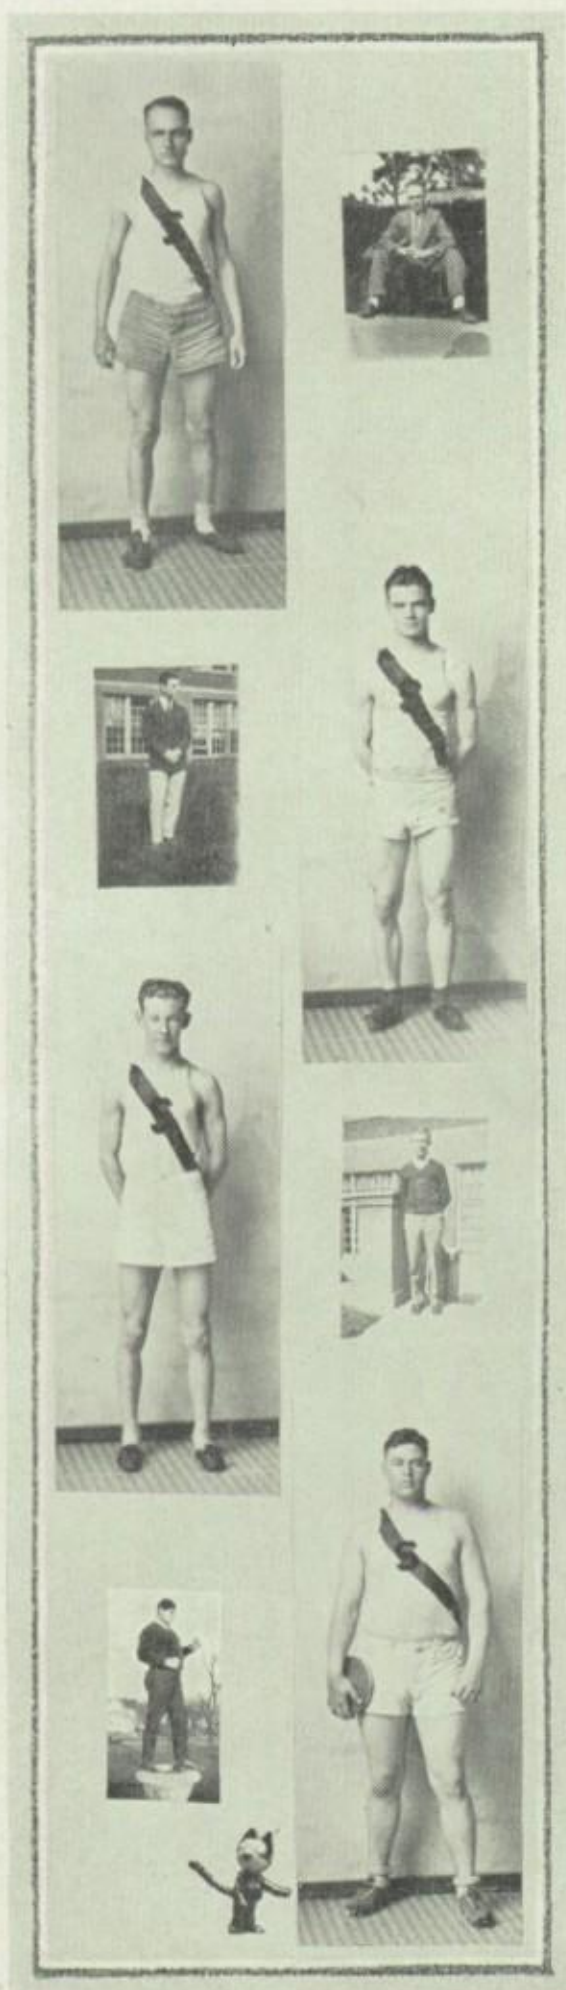

"Coffy" was one of the best half-milers S. H. S. has had for several years. He will be greatly missed next year.

HARRY STOUTAMEYER (Captain-elect)

A half-miler who ought to go good next year. He has one more year in which to help the S. H. S.

DALE LAWRENCE

The quarter-miler. We will have Dale next year. He placed well in the district.

JEROME BURTLE

Burtle was a good runner who will be back next year to uphold the honor of the S. H. S.

JOHN NEEDHAM

"Jawn" was our dash man this year, as well as broad jumper. John was a new man this year.

ELMER TOMLINSON

"Chunk" could surely throw the "be be" and shot put. "Chunk" has been with us in track for four years.

HARRY MOODY

A good man who could always be depended upon. He helped S. H. S. win in several meets.

JOHN LAWTON

Another Sophomore who has made good. Lawton ran the mile and the half mile.

JOHN TAGGART

A runner on the relay team who helped bring home the trophies.

CHARLES WILEY

A new man who made good in the dashes. He is a Sophomore.

Cross Country Track

Springfield was represented in the Conference two-mile cross country run at Champaign in the fall of 1925 by a team composed of Captain Coffinbarger, McAllister, Lawrence and Baker.

The team placed fifth from a total of over forty runners from the twelve schools in the conference. Coffinbarger was the first Springfield man to finish and placed fifth. The other members of the team finished well and added enough points to earn a fifth place for S. H. S.

The meet was won by Danville. Hawrey, captain of the team from Danville, covered the two miles on the cross-country course around the Illini Memorial Stadium in 10 minutes and 58 seconds.

Interclass Track Meet

The Interclass meet was held at the High School Athletic field as it was last year. There is always much rivalry between the classes and this year was no exception.

The Seniors started their prowess at the first crack of the gun and soon left the under classes far behind.

The Senior point winners were Taylor, who won most of the dashes; Fowler, also a dash man; Jacobi, a hurdler; and Londrigan, who won the shotput.

The end of the meet found the Seniors far ahead of its nearest competitor, the Juniors. Seniors had seventy-two points; Juniors, thirty-two; Sophomores, seventeen, and the Freshmen came out with nine.

Taylor was high point man of the meet.

The order of events was as follows:

50 yd. dash	High jump
100 yd. dash	Shot put
220 yd. dash	Discus
Mile run	Broad jump
120 yd. low hurdles	Javelin
880 yd. dash	Pole vault
440 yd. dash

Baseball Season

The baseball season this year has not been so successful from the standpoint of actual tallies driven home, but Coach Bill Roellig feels that he has given something to the team that is far more valuable than winning games. This one thing is experience. Several substitutes played in the games, giving many a chance they would not have had otherwise. As in any other sport much of the credit for the team's ability is due to the second team which tirelessly devotes its time and energy without any reward or recognition.

DECATUR

The baseball season opened with a loss of 9-5 at the hands of Decatur, April 22. Decatur had played more games and was more experienced, so it wasn't a bad start.

CHAMPAIGN

We met Champaign here May 1st and in a ten inning game were defeated by one run 10-9. The team by this time had showed great improvement.

ILLIOPOLIS

We journeyed on Wednesday, May 7th, to Illiopolis to overwhelm the defenders by a 19-1 score. Every sub got into the game.

I. S. D.

The strong Illinois School for the Deaf came here May 10th and what looked like a slaughter for us was turned into a 14-11 victory. A rally staged by Jacksonville in the ninth almost lost us the game.

ILLIOPOLIS

Illiopolis again. On her muddy field we again beat her in a four inning tussle by a score of 12-0. A sophomore recruit, Micophy, pitched the fracas and showed Roellig that he has a pitcher to rely on.

DECATUR

Decatur's superior ability again evidenced itself and we suffered a second defeat from this strong aggregation.

CHAMPAIGN

Our second game with Champaign resulted somewhat differently from the first, much to our chagrin.

I. S. D.

The I. S. D. showed a much better fighting spirit than they had had in their first game and turned in a 16-1 win against us.

ARTHUR JAMES (Captain)

"Artie" kept up the morale of the team. He was a hard, clean fighter.

JOHN HUNTER (Captain-Elect)

A good outfielder whose leadership will make him a good captain for 1927.

FRANK DIRKSEN

"Rowdy" was a reliable man who proved his worth at first base.

LEONARD TOMLINSON

A student manager who could always be depended upon to take care of everything in the best possible manner.

JAMES McDONALD

He was in a class with the best catchers S. H. S. has ever had.

EDWARD McNAMARA

Denny played a consistent game at short throughout the year. A good man for the team.

ROBERT SCHUSTER

He always snagged the hits that seemed good for extra bases. A good outfielder, who will be missed.

CARL KRAUS

A reliable southpaw, who was there with the goods. He proved his worth as relief pitcher.

JOE GRIFFIN

Our lead off man who could nearly always be counted on for a hit. He played a good game at the initial sack.

LLOYD KNAPP

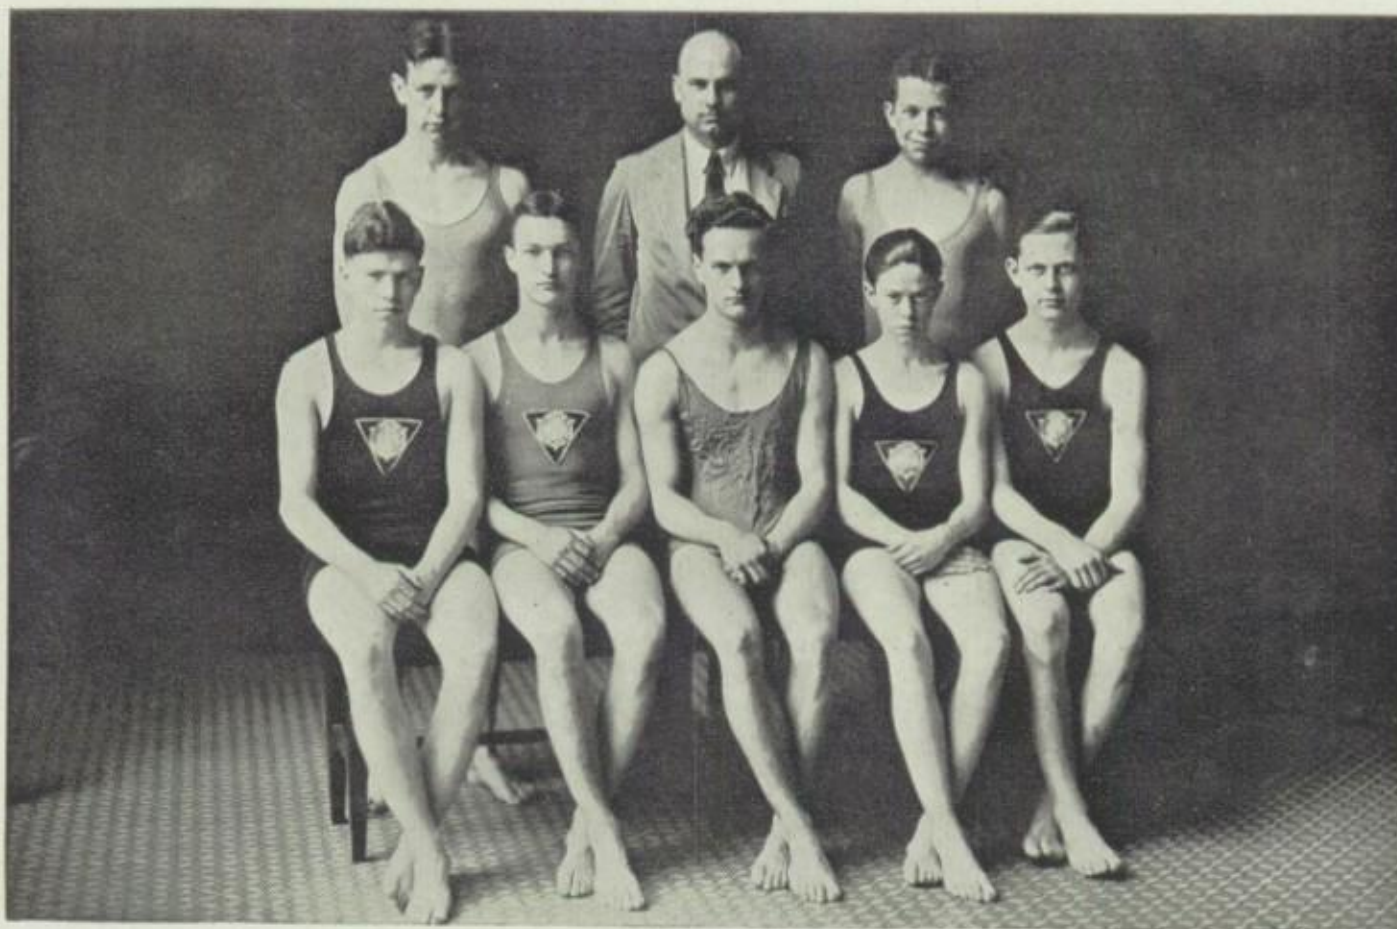

Lloyd was right there when it came to stopping them at third base. He hit for a good average.

GEORGE GOLDSMITH

George was our utility infielder and was always ready when called upon.

WILLIAM WEISSING

Bill was our mainstay in the box this year and hit when runs were needed.

Swimming

As the good ship entered the harbor of Swimming isle, the captain saw the S. H. S. tankers plunging deeply into the sea.

Swimming is a minor sport, which has just started under Coach Royal who was the Illinois University swimming captain, previous to his coming here. While there was not much material with which to build a team Royal developed some classy swimmers in George, Withey, Phillip, Clowers and Mulholland.

They went to the Danville meet and placed 4th which is very good considering the competition of the schools in the Big Twelve.

Swimming is a well liked sport and will be better developed in future years.

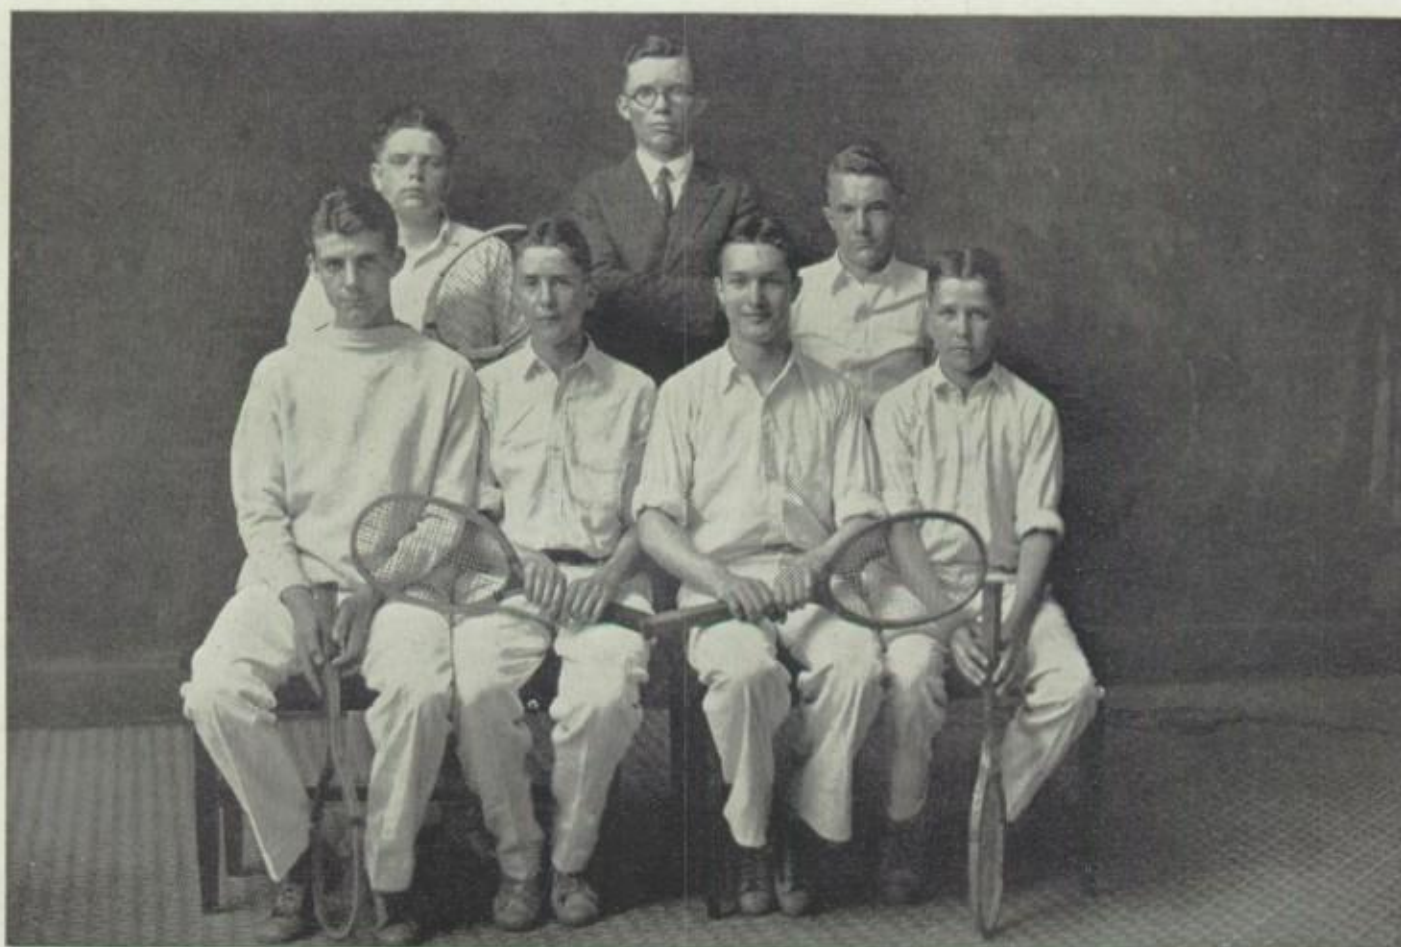

Golf

Another minor sport that has proven successful is golf. Golf has aroused a great interest in the school and now has many candidates for the team.

This year's team was composed of Thomas Charlton, Ashley Coats, Tom Morgan, John Fixmer, Vance Dickerman and Theodore Schlitt.

The team placed third in the Conference meet, and had a tournament for championship.

The golf team was coached by Mr. Stevens who proved to be an able coach.

Tennis

In the distance, from the deck of the good ship "Capitoline" as it is sailing the athletic sea, we can see the tennis isle.

The tennis team was coached by Mr. H. K. Bosely who made it a success even though the season was short.

Marshall Jaquith was the most outstanding player, winning the conference meet here May 1st by defeating another S. H. S. star, Robert Crook. Bill Crook was also a reliable player. The doubles were won by Jaquith and Albert Schuster. Fowler and Munn were runners up.

The teams also played a home and home game with Decatur and a match with Concordia College. It also placed third in the State Meet held at Urbana.

Big Twelve Meet

This year's Big Twelve Meet, sponsored by Springfield, was the most successful meet ever held in this part of the state.

The weather for the meet was ideal for athletics and was the prime factor in aiding many to new track records.

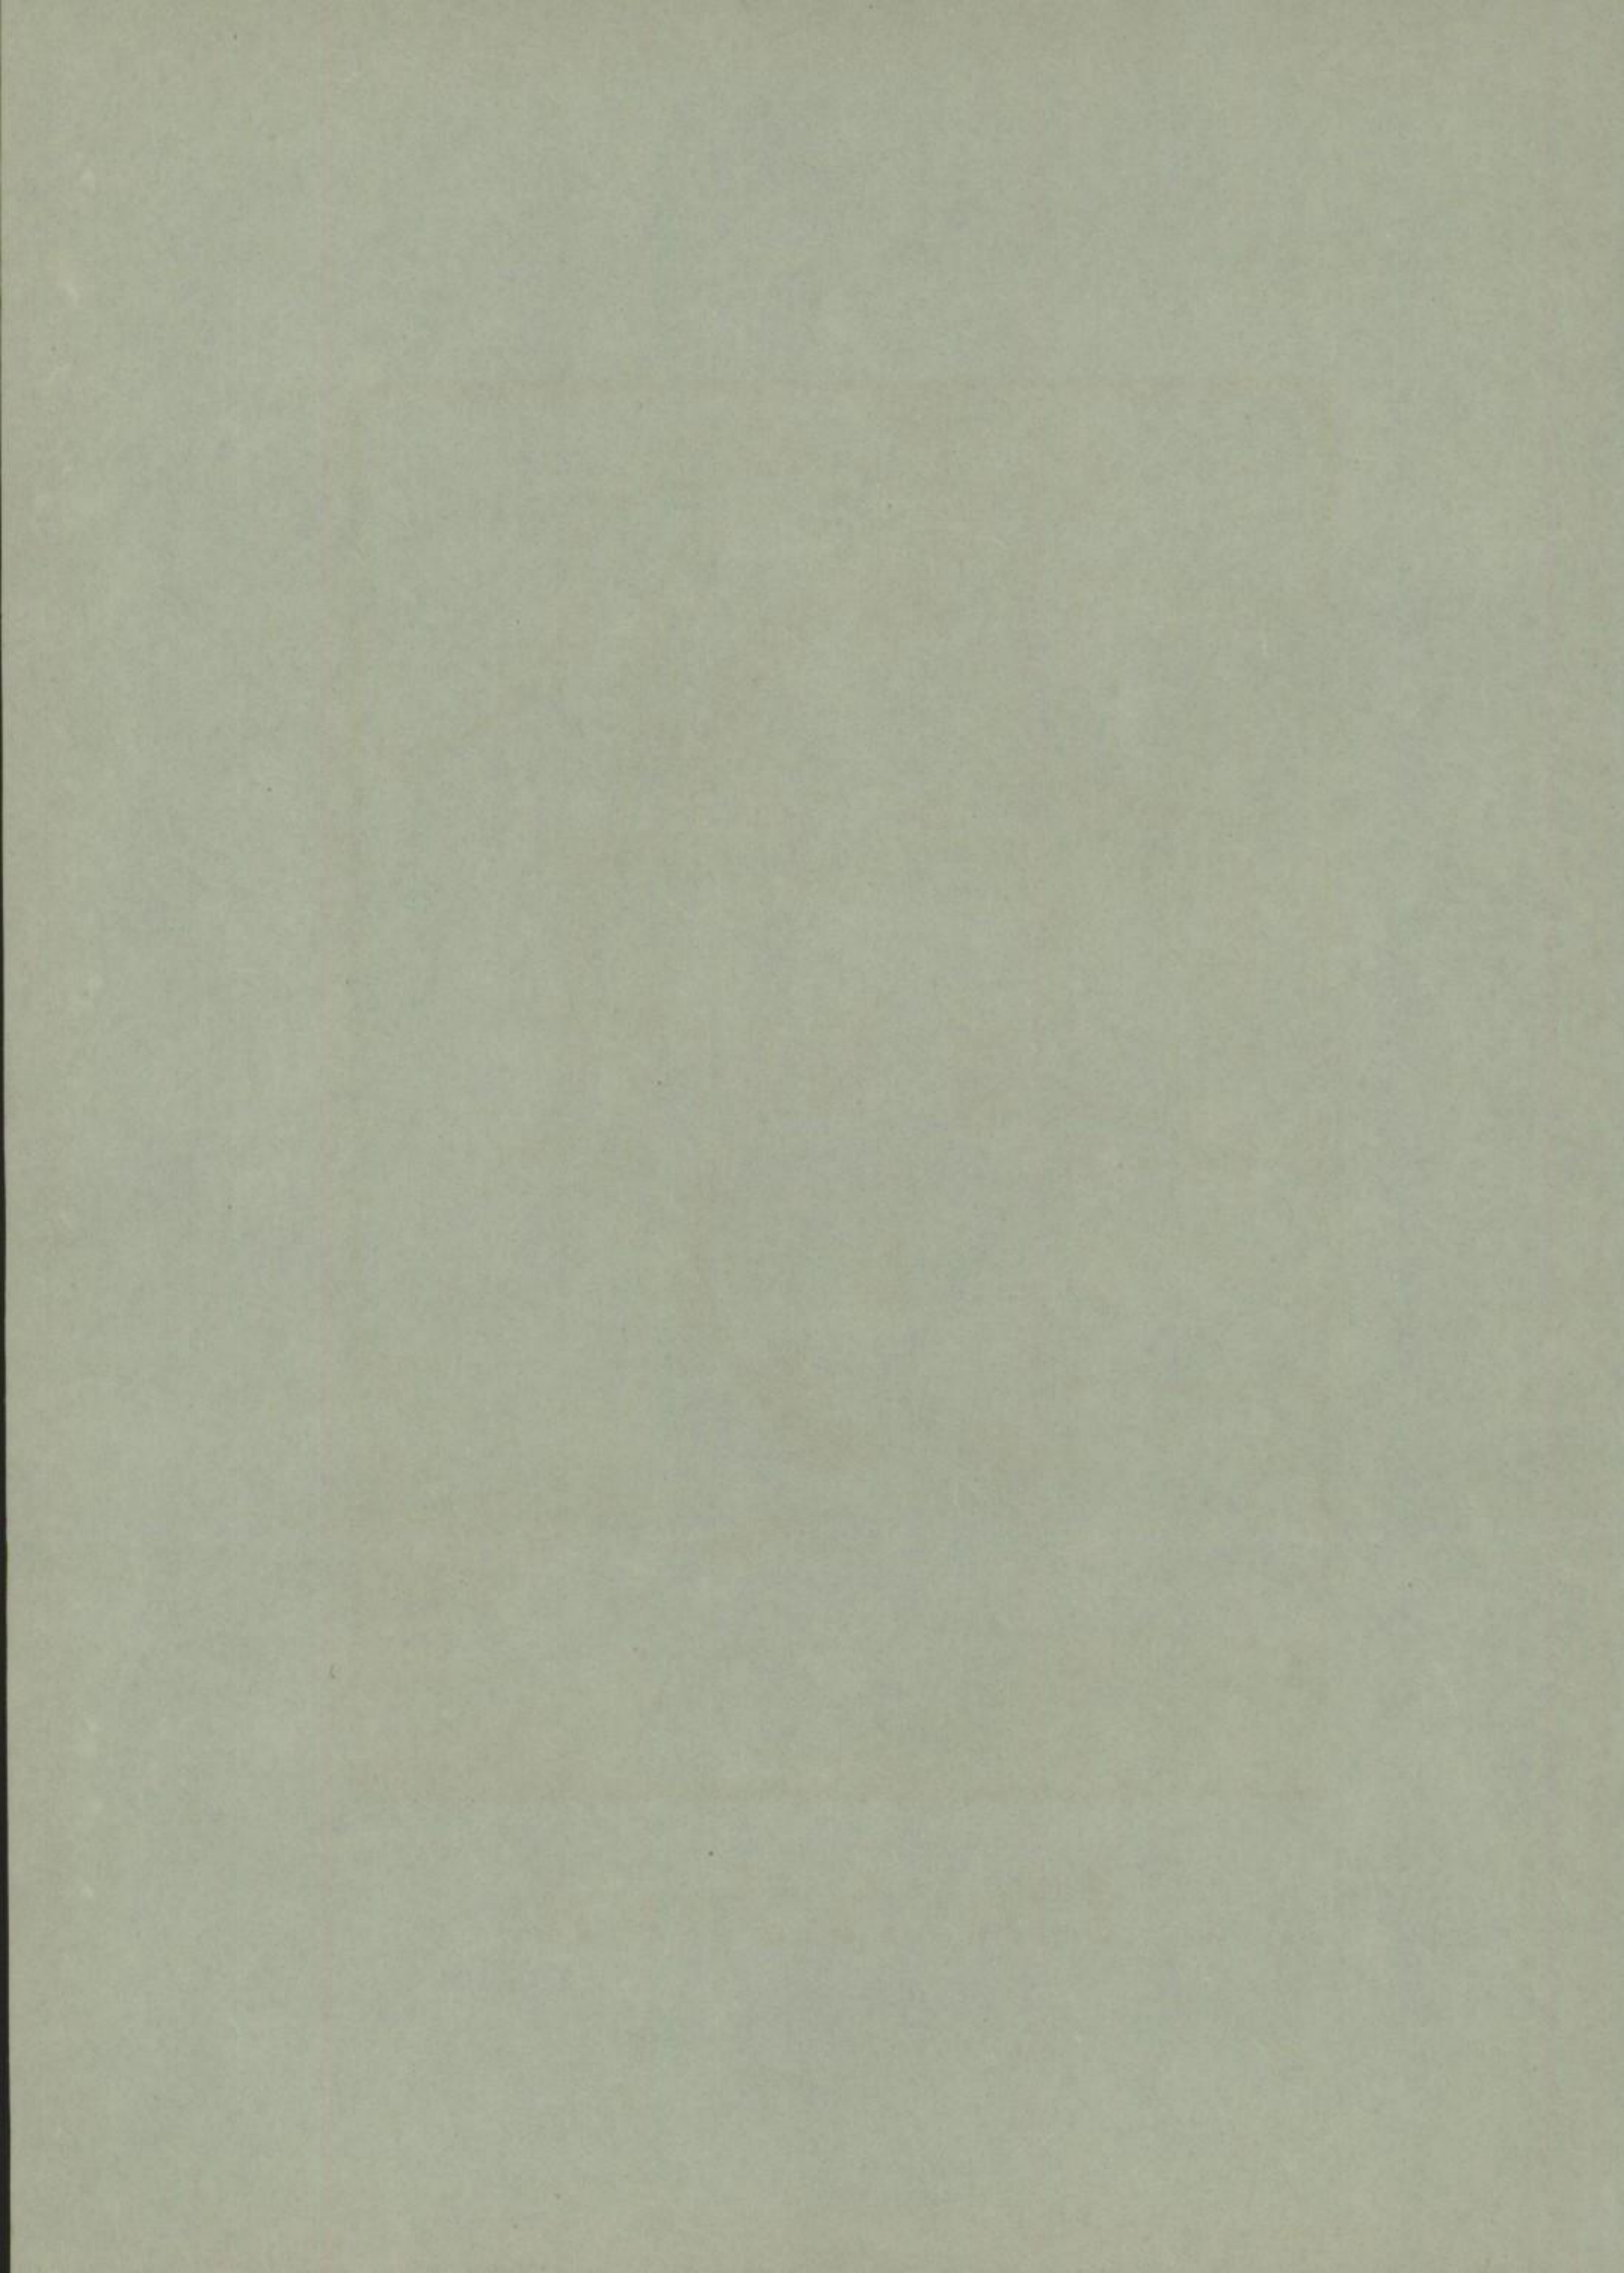

Urbana won first in the track events with 33 points. Springfield came sixth with 13½ points. Tomlinson won the only first for Springfield, Coffinbarger was nosed out of first in the half mile, Stoutameyer took fourth in the mile, Needham won fourth in the pole vault and in the 100 yd. dash. The relay team trailed Champaign and Urbana to win third place.

Springfield took most of the places in the commercial events. The shorthand teams won the 60, 80 and 100 word dictation by a large margin. In the typing events Springfield was not so lucky as a team but placed first and second in the individuals.

The crowning achievement was the music events. In this Springfield won the sweepstakes cup.

The School

The Faculty

THERE is on this ship a group of people called the faculty. To this group of men and women is entrusted the responsibility of guiding the youth of Springfield into safe harbor.

Our high school is fortunate in the selection of its teachers. We have a group of men and women who place the welfare of the School and Student first and who are ever ready to sacrifice some of their own pleasures for that purpose. They not only are capable instructors in the different subjects but they instill in the students high ideals of which they set good examples. They are well versed in their subjects as is shown by the rankings of our students when they enter college.

In our classrooms, order and courtesy prevail. The students are taught to respect the rights of their fellowmen as well as their own.

A teacher's task is a difficult and many times a thankless one. The educational part of it is not all, there are other responsibilities and it is because our teachers are so conscientious in the fulfillment of their duties that we say that Springfield High School is exceedingly fortunate in its teachers.

DWIGHT W. McCOY, A.B., A.M.

Principal

University of Illinois
Columbia University
University of Colorado

"What a way he has with the ladies."

Mr. McCoy was first mate on the good ship "Capitoline" and also chief of the S. H. S. Island. His kind attention and diligent efforts exerted a great influence over all the school.

LYMAN K. DAVIS, A.B.

Assistant Principal

University of Illinois

"Five hours."

Cooperating with the first mate is the next in command, Mr. Davis, whose pleasing personality and untiring interest in the students have made him liked by all. Under his guidance disorder and bad conduct are swept aside and our ship sails on in peace and harmony.

FRED C. NICHOLS, A.B.

Assistant Principal

Wabash College
Wisconsin University

"The old 'Nick' himself."

Quiet, self-contained, yet with a powerful reserve of hidden strength, Mr. Nichols ruled the Central High Island. Over six hundred young inhabitants love and respect him as they strive to become accustomed to strange routine under his guidance.

State Normal
Franklin College

"Eternal sunshine settled on her hair."

Girls are ever a problem and to Miss Davidson is entrusted the responsibility of guiding the girls into safe anchorage. She has charge of their curricula and sees that their morale is not lowered in any way. Her gentle but firm influence is felt by all the girls.

ROY A WENTZ, B.S. in E.E.

Dean of Boys

James Millikin University
Illinois State Normal School

"Look out boys! He's coming."

There is one on board the ship whose duty it is to guide the youth of S. H. S. safely into port. This member of the faculty is Mr. Wentz. It is his duty to see that no youth falls overboard. In his attempts to retain every soul on board Mr. Wentz is almost always successful.

Mid-Year Senior Class

On January 28, 1926, the mid-year class, fifty-four members strong, put out to sail on the Sea of Life in another small bark, leaving behind the cheering passengers that remained.

Although handicapped by not being recognized as a class until the beginning of the last semester, they proved themselves loyal supporters of Springfield High School.

Their records show leaders in track, scholarship, society, drama, and music, of which they can be justly proud.

In bidding farewell to Springfield High they wish to acknowledge their obligation to the untiring interest of their class advisor, Mr. Ernest N. Cox; their class officers; class committees; senators; and representatives.

June Class History

SAILING the sea of "The School" we come to the Isle of Seniors. There are about two hundred individuals on this isle and all are extraordinary people. Some can sing like sirens, others can play like Orpheus, and many resemble Hercules in the wonderful feats they can perform. Still others are like Jupiter in their exceeding wisdom. Even these are not all of the accomplishments of the versatile people.

As we visit this island we learn something of the history of these people. In nineteen hundred and twenty-two they lived on the Isle of Freshman. In that year there were almost 800 and all carried the gold and black banner proudly through the year. The next year 600 of them moved to the Isle of Sophomores. An assembly was given to the members of the neighboring three islands. The same year a track meet was held by all the islands and these 600 came in second.

The ensuing year the people moved again, this time to the Isle of Juniors and it was found that there were about 400 to carry on. A red and maroon banner marked the island and they started out full of enthusiasm. They prepared for the final year and in the spring entertained all the inhabitants of the Isle of Seniors at a wonderful party which they called a Prom.

Again in 1925 these people moved—this time to the Isle of Seniors and took up the traditional green and white colors. They had many parties that year and everyone of the two hundred became acquainted with everyone else. Assemblies were often held and questions of importance were decided. They had two presidents for the first one embarked on the Sea of Matrimony. The dramatists of this colony gave a wonderful play which was called "Turn to the Right." The people who then lived on the Isle of Juniors gave them all a lovely party. Finally a meeting called Recognition Assembly was held and then Commencement. After these solemn and beautiful occasions all sorrowfully said goodbye and started out on the Sea of Life.

THE Springfield Scholarship Society was organized in 1919 with the purpose of giving recognition to those students who attain a high scholastic standing. This recognition makes the honor of having a high scholastic average just as great as that received in athletics or any other school activity, and just as worth while working for. Membership in this Society is open to every graduating student who fulfills the following requirements:

The student must have carried his work with a general average of 85% for the four years of his High School course. In case a student has more than thirty semester credits, the thirty highest grades are averaged.

He must have carried at least one major subject with an average of 90%. In case a student has more than three years in any department, the six highest semester grades are averaged.

No student shall be elected to membership in the Springfield Scholarship Society who shall have in any way disgraced or discredited the Springfield High School.

After the student has proved his eligibility to membership in the Society by fulfilling the above qualifications he receives the following recognitions in a special assembly convened for that purpose:

A bronze seal is placed upon his diploma with a ribbon indicating the particular department in which he has attained high honors.

He is given a certificate from the department in which he has attained high honors, signed by the instructors with whom he had work in that department.

He is given a bronze medal as a permanent recognition of the high esteem the school places upon his achievement.

In the Senior Class of 1926, the following students completed all requirements and have been elected to the Springfield Scholarship Society:

Frank Baker
Mary E. Beck

The Junior Class of '26 was safely guided beyond the rocks by their faculty advisor, Mr. S. S. Simpson. In the fall of '25, the best and largest Junior Class that ever booked passage on our ship elected Jerome Burtle, Freeman Butts, Carolyn Starks and Joe Munn to guide their class for the ensuing year. Their task was well done, and being aided by loyal Juniors, the ship was never in danger. The class was very unfortunate in losing two very popular members in the sea of death, namely John Barth and Theodore Taylor. The class received its due amount of both scholastic and athletic awards. Special attention must be given the Junior debaters who constituted 90% of the varsity debate team. The crowning event of the Junior Class was the annual Junior-Senior prom held June 4th, at which time the members of both Junior and Senior classes mingled to the tunes of joyous music.

THEODORE TAYLOR

In Memoriam

Theodore "Ted" Taylor, '27, who was taken from us April 17, 1926. In him we lost an excellent classman, a true friend and a staunch supporter of S. H. S.

John Barth, '27, who died March, 1926. He was a reserved and quiet friend, whom the school misses.

Sophomore Class

OFFICERS

PRESIDENT	- - - - -	Carl Thoma
VICE-PRESIDENT	- - - - -	Stanley Thomas
SECRETARY	- - - - -	Mark Roberts
TREASURER	- - - - -	Robert Fitzgerald

The sea breezes blow gently on the Isle of the Sophomores as the ship drops anchor to ascertain the achievements of the class.

The Sophomore Class of '26 enters into its upper-classmanship supported by an unusually fine record of achievement in school activities and scholarship.

Under the able administration of its Officers and Representatives, the Class has done well in Athletics, as well as supporting Debate, the Societies, and other school affairs. Our Athletes and Debaters have shown a high standard of ability, and the success of the "Soph's" this year promises much for the future.

We owe a great deal of our success to Mr. Thompson, our class advisor. He has aided us sincerely in our efforts to uphold, on track and field and in the classroom, the honor of S. H. S.

Freshman Class

PRESIDENT
VICE-PRESIDENT
SECRETARY
TREASURER

Frederic Reid
Lowell Ryan
Catherine Dirksen
Wilbur Mills

The Class of '30 has shown the ability in its infancy to do big things for the betterment of the school. Outstanding among its other activities are the Freshman Party and the Freshman Cantata. The outgoing class of '26 looks with pleasure on the most active Freshman Class it has ever seen enter the school.

School Life

Oh Boy!!

See the Mermaid!!

Don't Fall Overboard.

You now embark upon the jolly, rollicking, sunshiny, delightful, extremely pleasant cruise on the Sea of School Life. We record herewith all the scandalous conglomeration of rumors, gossip, buzz, babble, jabber, chatter and slander coagulated, precipitated and censored indefinitely and indiscriminately.

Don't Get Peeved.

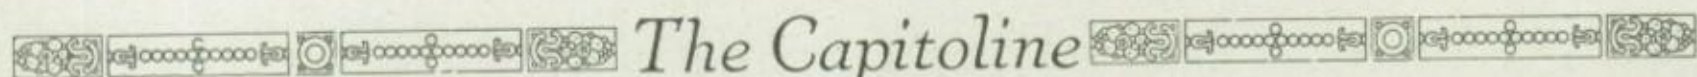

At this unadulterated extract of nonsense which has been impartially inoculated and expurgated by the faculty censors.

Notice

In self defense the Humorous Staff has retained the services of Ivan Skisivinske Skivar, Grand Duke of Vladivastock and Elmer Tomlinson, commander in chief of the Ship's Guards as protection from the assault of any weak minded individual who thinks himself maliciously caluminated.

The Log of the Ship "Capitoline"

AUGUST:

31—This day we embark upon the good ship "Capitoline" for a ten month's cruise on the sea of Education. The green haze hovering over the ship as she put out to sea was due, it is said, to the annual arrival of the Freshies.

SEPTEMBER:

1—Our sea legs were a bit wobbly and our craniums refused to oscillate today. Mercury climbed steadily toward the hundred mark. Whew!

4—The oppressive heat finally penetrated the frame of Commodore McCoy and all scrub hands are dismissed at 12 o'clock.

7—A little sprinkle sent the Freshies and even the Seniors, the latter minus their dignity, swooping like rats to the hold.

8—Excitement reigned on board ship—Work deserted at twelve bells to sea the Chicago Sox play the local Senators.

15—The passengers assembled on deck for the first get-together. The Negro Harmony Quartet from Utica revived our wilting collars and spirits with their lively songs.

21—Fair Week and fine weather prevails. No work today for the special benefit of the Freshies who must attend on Infants' Day. The upper classmen heartily endorse the afternoon vacations.

28—Old S. H. S. proved her sea-worthiness by sailing off with the grand prize in the School Exhibit at the Illinois State Fair. A crew of noisy tars copped second place in the band contest.

29—Threatened to raise old Davy Jones, himself, with yells we gave in assembly this morning. Mates parade in their new football duds. The deep blue sea and the red jerseys clashed in striking contrast.

30—The end of the month and shiver my timbers if the Freshmen haven't weathered it. Their faces are losing that sweetly blank expression. Must be the elevating influence of those auspicious upper classmen.

SCHOOL'S GRADUATION IS LIFE'S COMMENCEMENT

GRADUATION exercises are known in school circles as "Commencement." The days of preparation are over. Life out in the world begins.

“Well begun is half done.” And there is no better beginning than a savings account in the “Oldest Bank in Illinois.” It will smooth the road that stretches down the years.

OCTOBER:

1—Mutiny on board ship! There was a brawl between Vice-Admiral Davis and Captain Harriman in the latter's Cabin over the outcome of the Illinois-Michigan Game.

3—Captained by Chunk Tomlinson, the football squad sailed into the Illinois School for the Deaf like old salts and emerged with a 17-0 victory. Keep it up me hearties, we are backing you.

10—The Old Red and Black dipped under a wave of hard luck. Danville crew skinned us by a 7-3 victory.

16—It is rumored on board ship that several boat-loads of rooters invaded the downtown section and had a rip-roaring time (accent on roaring). Beware Carlinville—the writing "S. H. S. Beat C. H. S." is on the streets in letters of red.

17—We warned you Carlinville but you heeded not. We slid over the mud for a 20-0 victory.

20—Freshies, it takes years to cultivate a band and a set of hair like Kryl's. We saw and admired the latter and were greatly entertained by the former.

21—We wish to extend our sincerest sympathy. The first term grades are sent home. Cheer up, Freshies, there'll be plenty more, so keep afloat.

22—Today, the mighty Seniors did elect their class officers. From all indications and results they must have been feeling pretty bum.

29—Much revelry prevails tonight. The Delphics are tripping the light fantastic in the House-keeping Cabin. Much punch was consumed and the sailor's hornpipe was led by Skipper Wentz.

30—Ah! An Assembly! Commodore McCoy awards the cups and the sylph-like Chunk demonstrates the relation between the ballet and football.

31—Though 'tis Hallowe'en the spirits are with us. We downed Urbana 3-0.

“The surest way not to fail is to determine to succeed”

Having determined to succeed, how shall one go about it?

Every man answers that question for himself—but nine out of every ten successful men have included life insurance in their schemes of life, as is proven when their estates are finally settled.

NOVEMBER:

3—The marcel that has adorned Harold O'Shea's hair has been banished by the Court of Inquiry. It was charged that the waves made the gobs seasick.

7—The ship ran into a stormy sea today but came out with a 6-0 victory over Jayville. Fair weather was seen to be breaking.

10—Today the Les Bas did hold their matinee dance in the ship's gym. Mate Stephens and his boys offered the music.

11—Displaying the courage and endurance of the Yankees in France, our Old Red and Black drowned Bowen High in a sea of mud under an 8-0 score.

13—Captain Graham presents the products of her labor in a debate before the assembled passengers.

14—Oh Boy—What a game! We drowned, dragged and smeared Peoria Central over the muddy gridiron. We emerged hoarse but victorious with a 9-0 score.

18—The Drama Class is in the throes of Bill Shakespeare's "Mid Summer Night's Dream." R is ah please.

22—The most exalted Seniors held their first party with the charming Captain Harriman (faculty advisor) presiding as host. We wonder if Mr. Harriman's dancing had anything to do with the injured toes several girls carried around as a souvenir of the dance. The Charleston led by Commodore McCoy did greatly rock the boat.

26—Turkey day brought rain and more of it. Three hundred tars journeyed to Decatur where our crew indulged in a swimming meet on Millikin Field. The mates of S. H. S. wound up their football careers gloriously with an 8-0 victory.

30—Back to deck scrubbing after that brief but welcome respite—that is some of us are; others, feeling the weight of the old gobbler are indisposed.

DECEMBER:

1—The Football squad are food for the Lions! Burtle was named Captain-elect.

2—Like a voice from the depth of the sea, the Commodore mutters "The grades are out!"

The Football crew do battle with 18 chickens in a sea of gravy and trimmin's. The Tomlinsons keep watch as they clean up on the spread.

3—The Wrangler bunch this day did hold their semi-annual ship dance which was pronounced the crowning social event of the semester.

4—Chief cook Rourke presented her kitchen help in "Mid Summer Night's Dream." Kitchen aprons were put off for gorgeous costumes and the deck was transformed into a theater.

8—The 8th wonder of the world is announced—it is "The Capitoline." Skipper Schulz, the Captain's child, did cry to the world his love for a little red wagon with black wheels carrying that phenomena "The Capitoline of 1926."

15—The good ship "Parent" did come alongside and inspect the Old S. H. S. on its semi-annual tour.

18—Chief cook Rourke did again present her talented kitchen scullions in the Christmas Play "Why the Chimes Rang." 'Twas most solemnly beautiful

19—Chunk was this evening scheduled to appear at the Thalian jigaree in conjunction with Betty Jane Gehlman. Reports claim the floor will be crowded.

24—The Navy Board did grant a furlough to all sailors until Jan. 4. The Freshies are going round decks with seared faces these days. Reason—Santa's coming.

27—Santa was here and has gone but vacation remains. The gobs are disporting themselves on the ice that surrounds the ship while she's anchored.

31—"Tis time, my friends, to make new resolutions, for tonight a new year will invade the deck and the old year will slip into the annals of History.

JANUARY:

4—Our furlough is over and back to deck scrubbing we must come. Brilliant and dizzy wearing apparel much in evidence on the parade decks.

7—The mates sprout forth in oratory. The De'phics, Les Bas, and Hi Y's won the first round of the Inter-Society Debate.

9—The 12¹s gave the 12²s a farewell salute in the Housekeeping Cabin as the 12² sailor days are about o'er.

14—Under a heavy sea the ship's mates lost to Bloomington 22-19 in one of the fastest games of the season.

21—A black squall looms ahead. We are directly in its path and cannot evade it. It is—the Semester Exams.

24—The chaplain of the boat, formerly of the First Christian Church, delivers a sermon called "Baccalaureate" to those Seniors, the February Grads.

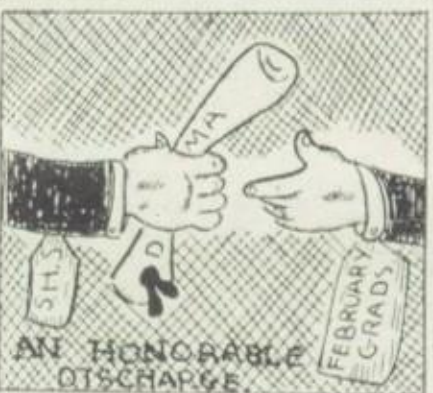

25—Questions threaten to flood the deck and overwhelm us. We rock, we roll, we flounder on questions and more questions. Still in the grip of the storm. S. O. S.

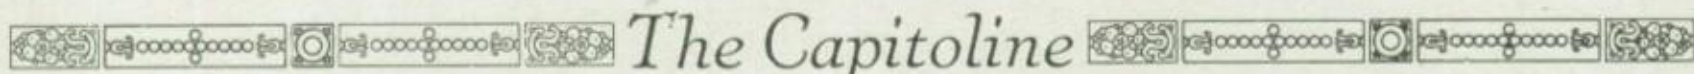

26—The February Graduates have their last fling in a dance given in the Housekeeping Cabin. Must have been a scarcity of the male species for the lassies tagged the gobs they wanted to Charleston with.

27—The day of reckoning. We will not go into it at length but those grade slips spoke volumes—and so did Dad.

28—We, the June Class, bid the February Graduates, an affectionate farewell at Commencement this evening. We heartily forgive and forget the dirty tricks you played on us as under graduates. It is with a feeling of sadness we see you leave the mother ship "Capitoline."

29—So with them out of the way we've got easy sailing.

FEBRUARY:

1—The anchor is drawn and once more we launch into the deep. Freshmen are strewn about deck promiscuously. Ho, Hum! Studies and more of them.

2—Announcement is made by the watch-crier, that Arnold Tomlinson has left the path of single blessedness. Good luck, Old Man!

4—We flounder in a deluge of work—Studies to the right of us; Studies to the left of us; Into the River of Studies swam the two thousand.

5—W. O. W. rescues us from drowning in a heavy sea of overwork! When broadcasted from assembly today, it sent the Old Boat rocking on waves of "Pep." Those mighty basket slingers instruct us in the art of oratory.

8—Since Owen Cook's dip in the matrimonial sea, the Senior Guys have been on "the look out" for a President. 'Tis election day.

10—The Senior Class finds the man to fill the vote, Mr. Day McIntyre. While he assumed dignity, the Seniors selected the classic "Show Me The Way To Go Home" for their class song.

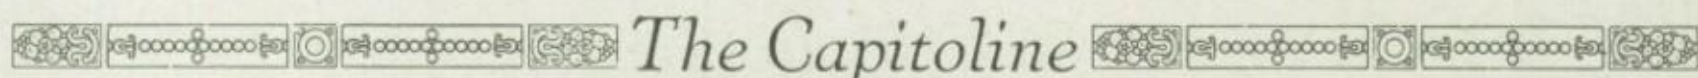

11—The gods of chance favor us with an assembly. 'Twas proven by Skipper Antle that Lincoln had an enlarged funny bone.

12—Abe serves us a good turn. His fame won us a holiday. We accept with thanks and more of them (meaning Holidays).

17—Max Clowers breaks into the lime light—he was elected the official dog catcher of 112. Skipper Simpson attributes it to the ignorant vote.

26—S. H. S. proved her mettle, tonight, by sinking the Champaign basketeers under a 13-12 score. But not content with that, she canters off the victor in both contests of the Bloomington Debate. Full speed ahead, mates, for the Island, Success.

One Hundred Ninety-Two

MARCH:

3—Our ship historian, Charlotte Coats, after much research declares that the Declaration of Independence was signed on board the Mayflower. Some Discovery!

4—All assembled today to hear the Millikin Glee Club. The fair sex were thrilled at the manly misplaced eyebrows the college shieks sported.

8—The cruelties of Captain Kidd live again in the initiation of pledges for the Literary Societies. The unfortunates are made to walk and feel the plank.

10—Seniors swoop down upon Room 14 for a powwow. The Charleston is executed by Warden Forman.

11—They tempt our appetites with a taste of "Pickles." The verdict returned was "tart but delicious."

12—Chef Bickle's masterpiece "Pickles" is served. It savored of romance and pickles.

16—Open House Night and all is well. Our parents and friends pace the decks. Mightily did they enjoy the Fashion Show and loudly did they roar at the pathetic reunion of the Class of 1926.

17—The spirit of St. Patrick flits through the ship. The green apparition is seen by many.

18—Cards of Condolence are in order—the grades are loose.

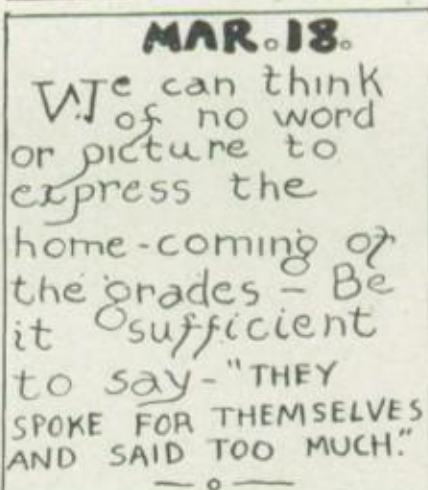

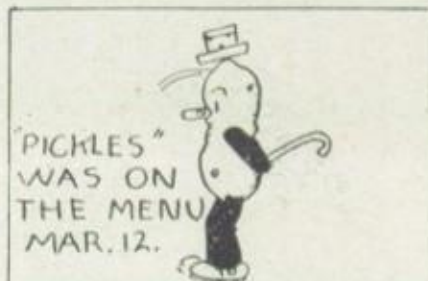

23—Jack Fixmer appeared today with close cropped head. Looks as though he's in character for that crook play "Turn to the Right."

25—Commodore McCoy awarded the cups won in the Scholastic race for last term.

26—The old ship rolls on waves of glee. We are free for our teachers are in institute.

Springfield High School talked herself to victory in the debates held at DeWitt and on board the home ship.

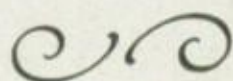

30—Skipper Schulz and wife royally entertained the Capitoline Staff at a dinner and bridge party in their cabin. Mere words fail to describe it.

APRIL:

1—While April honors her fools, we nominate candidates for May Queen. The latter are surpassingly fair, the former, exceedingly numerous.

2—The ship is at anchor and labor ceases. Could enjoy the furlough but little with the Faculty's rejoicing in, "'Tis your last day off until June."

3—The Seniors flaunt their green and white to the breezes. We won the Inter-Class Track Meet in a walk.

5—Monday and its blueness envelop the ship.

8—That most righteous Gentleman from Michigan favors us with a few choice words in advertising the Senior Class Play "Turn to the Right." A sketch of the latter that may be entitled "Speak For Yourself, John" was credibly given and roaringly received.

9—Skipper Rourke's command to "Turn to the Right" revealed an island of pathos spiced with rare humor. It quite exceeded all expectations.

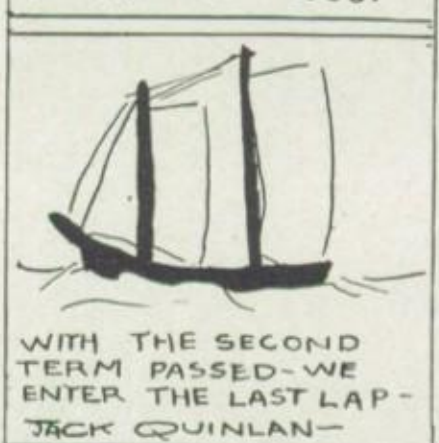

12—Fair was the weather but fairer were the lassies we elected for the May Fete. Pauline Hunn is to be the Queen of May while Elizabeth French is the Maid of Honor.

15—The uplifting influence of "Turn to the Right" has hit a snag. In Senior Assembly today in voting on place of commencement 103 votes were cast—there were only 95 physically present.

23—The ship was grounded when steered into "The Rock" this evening and Skipper Rourke and her stage hands were swept to the crest of the wave of dramatic success.

28—With the second term passed and duly reported on we steer for home.

30—Ah! Revenge is sweet. In spite of the Faculty's former boast about holidays we are free at one o'clock today to allow the Big Twelve Contests to begin.

One Hundred Ninety-Six

MAY:

6—All decks cleared for a holiday was called to see the Senators beat Decatur in the opening III league game.

8—Commander Harriman presided over the last Senior party held in the House-keeping Suite.

14—The winners of the ship were presented in a display this evening. A style show and an operetta were added attractions.

19—S. H. S. debaters win championship in Illinois State Debating League.

21—The Queen of May did to-night preside over a festival of beauty in the arsenal.

22—The Freshmen Glee Clubs present "The Last Tea of Tsuki," a cantata under the direction of Skipper Moore.

26—A great storm arose at sea and the Senior exams started.

28—It still rages but the sun can be seen trying to break through. Grades go into the office today.

JUNE:

4—A great blow-out was held in the Ship's Gym when the Juniors did pull their annual Prom. Familiar waters can be seen by the crew. Home is not far off.

5—A cast of all students did present "Wappin' Wharf." Bloody pirates roamed the deck all day.

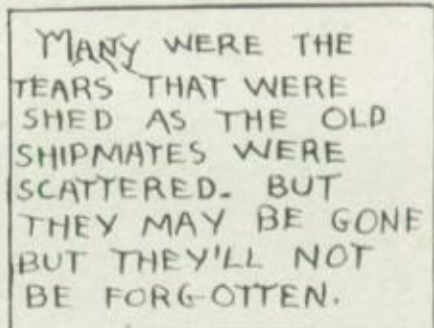

6—Baccalaureate sermon is held in the Laurel M. E. Church.

7—Today the good ship Capitoline was cleaned and polished for publication. Its contents filled everyone with amazement.

8—Recognition was given to all those who have done great deeds upon the four year cruise.

10—The good ship has returned to its port amongst joy and sorrow. For some it was the last cruise, for others it means one more. But not on the Good Ship Capitoline. Rev. Nicholas spoke upon our successful voyage at the Graduation of the crew of 1926.

11—The old shipmates today are scattered to the four winds. The sea was calm and all was peaceful as many friends parted for the last time. It has been a very happy voyage over the four seas of school life and we have had many experiences never to be forgotten. Let us close this log and may it bring fond memories to those who read it in later years.
—THE LOGGERS.

COMING INTO PORT

The good ship Capitoline again makes port and many tales of the sea it contains.

Every day of the voyage saw us at our post supplying one of the essential needs—

EATS

We refrain from extolling our efforts, but judge our success solely from results. These are ample compensation, and we promise to do even better, if possible, in the future.

Springfield High School Cafeteria

BERTHA BAKER JONES, Manager

We merry tars of the good ship "Capitoline" do hereby give three rousing cheers for the Washington Street dinkies have been painted red and white, most sea worthy colors. No more shall happy sailors, upon sighting them in the distance sprint joyously down the public wharf at Fifth and Monroe only to return disgustedly muttering "Spring Street!" A few years ago there were installed some shorter, fatter, but not less rocky vessels on the Governor and Country Club lines, so that we should be able to distinguish them. Now they have colored the Country Club boats a deep sea-green.

We would suggest some other improvements that have been left undone.

First: They should display printed signs bearing these words: "There are just as many life preservers to cling to in the stern as in the bow." This would make it unnecessary for the good pilots to shout themselves hoarse saying, "Step to the rear."

Second: They should paint the extras a distinctive color and have two sets, one for Central and one for Senior High. This would spare our feet when the Freshmen disembark.

Third: They should lessen the English Channel effect at Third Street. Of course all good sailors like the sea a bit rough but not so that they bump their neighbors.

Fourth: They should throw out the gangplank in front of the High School instead of at Hawks', especially in foggy weather or when nearing an iceberg.

Fifth: We emphatically demand that these subsidiary lines be run on schedule time so that the passengers will arrive in due and proper time. If in default full explanation should be given to the office or it will be necessary to have Ivan Skisivinski Skivar take necessary steps to protect our rights.

"What do you believe is the reason for your long life, Mr. Harriman?" asked a Bulletin reporter.

Mr. Harriman: "Because I was born a long time back."

Freshman to Miss Jones: "What's your name?"

"Jones."

Frosh: "How do you spell it?"

Traffic Cop: "What do you mean by passing a boulevard stop? Why don't you use your noodle?"

Lorraine Robie: "I didn't know the car had one."

Edward K., in the midst of a snowstorm during his first call on Betty Jane Gehlman: "Will you go boating sometime with me?"

Do you play dominoes?

Do you enjoy ragtime music?

State whether the odor of the pungent weed nauseates you.

Do you wash your feet daily?

Have you an instinct to use abusive language when you are displeased?

Do you know a white collar when you see it?

Do the charms of the opposite sex allure you?

Do you chew Spearmint gum?

Do you drink grape juice?

Do you come home with the cows?

Do you wear a misplaced eyebrow?

Are you kind to your mother-in-law?

Fixmer—"I saw you after assembly yesterday."

Frosh—"I didn't notice you."

Fixmer—"I suppose not. You see I wanted to collect for the Capitoline."

J. T. STOCKTON, Principal.

Seen on Carl Thoma's English paper: Achilles was a Greek God. His mother dipped him in the river Rhine to make him immortal, but she held him by the heel where Paris later shot him. Before this he went to the Trojan War where he killed Goliath.

Teacher: Translate: "Cave canem," (which means, "Beware of the dog.")

Frances Bone: "Beware, I may sing."

Alma Lola Whitney: They say awfully bright people generally go insane.

Betty Gehlman: Gee! We'd better look out.

Roselyn Beam: "—I expect to have so many little things to think about when I get married—"

Quiz in Three Parts

Q. What would a cannibal be if he ate his mother's sister?

A. Anteater.

Q. What would a cannibal be if he ate his mother?

A. An orphan.

Q. What would a cannibal be if he ate his mother-in-law?

A. Gladiator.

Teacher: Give me a sentence with mustache.

Harold Keeley: I must dash around and get some cigarettes.

Grace Elliot (to Marilla McCoy): Marilla, how did you get that mud on your shoes?

Marilla: Well, if you want to know you just ask Jack North.

Miss Dean: John, what's a synonym?

John: A synonym is a word you use when you can't spell the other one.

Rules and Regulations to Govern all Students. Must Be Strictly Adhered to

1. Don't walk in the halls, use an aeroplane.

2. No talking in classroom, broadcast your message.

3. School begins at 8:45; to avoid conjection come at 12:00.

4. The paper waste cans are an ornament, not to be used.

5. Write your excuses in advance in order to have a supply on hand when Davis calls you to the office.

6. It is poor taste to have high grades.

7. Never use the walks, they may wear out.

9. Freshies, carry a sharp pencil to mark the walls so you can retrace your steps.

Miss Graham: Wines is very original, he makes up the best statistics.

Charlotte Coats: Say, Ruth, I dreamed about you last night.

Ruth Mitchell: That's nice, what d'you dream?

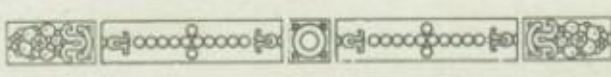

C. C.: Well, you see, I died and climbed up the golden stairs, but when I got to the top St. Peter told me to go back down and get a piece a chalk and write my sins on the stairs. I did, and when I was going back up I met you coming down.

R. M.: Yes, yes, go on!

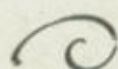

C. C.: I asked you where you were going and you said you were coming back after more chalk!!!

Mr. Schulz says that he used to have a pet catfish and every time he put his hand in the aquarium the little darling would swim around his hand and say "Meow, Meow"!!

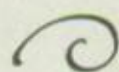

Virgil Bower: Say Spensely, just because you're a pain, don't think you're a window.

THE BRIGHT FUTURE OF OUR SENIORS

Here's to '26, the class for me,
Ever happy may we be,
If you wonder look below
And their futures you will know.

John Schenk seems to have hope
He and Alma Lola will soon elope.
Al Armbruster, our best musician,
Will some day be a "quack" physician.

Collins Taylor, quite skinny and slender,
Will some day be an umbrella
mender.

Mildred Forward, now quiet and shy,
Will help to make the world go dry.
Of Genevieve White, always so bright,
Editors will learn that she can write.
Rosalyn Beam, so fair of feature,
Will be married to a bald head preacher.

Little, quiet and shy Stanley Brown
Will make a fine mayor for our town.

Russel Fowler's a clever youth;
He'll probably be a detective sleuth.
Elmer Tomlinson is talented now;
He may prove famous, I know not how.

James Mosely, our windy guy,
Will some day in an aeroplane fly.
David Deerwester a tramp will be
And eventually a pirate on the sea.
William Stone will live in single blessedness,
Probably due to his cussedness.

Frances Partridge an old maid will be,
I think she's going to live with me.
James McDonald, clever and smart,
Will someday marry his old sweetheart.

Betty French, the school's famed beauty,
Will doubtless take up household duties.

John Fixmer in his talents rich
Will suddenly die of the seven year itch.

Jack North will later settle down
Somewhere here near "Pickletown."

Betty Jane Gehlman will marry six times,
Her name appearing in big headlines.

Florence Abel's now known as the lark
Will broadcast from Washington
Park.

Art and Arch Evans' lives may be great,
But their future lies in the hands of fate.

Pauline Hunn will doubtless be sent
As secretary to our U. S. President.
Clarence McKinnie shines shoes for fun,
Thinks it's lots better than being a bum.

Lorraine Cox to this town will come
As an agent for Wrigley's Spearmint gum.

Frank Baker will be all the rage
Portraying Hamlet on the stage.
Vivian Boone on the Journal will do
her part,
She'll answer "Problems of the Home and Heart."

Ruth Frazee will ne'er be content
"Till she's the wife of the President.
Elmer Meador thinks it's lots of fun
To tease the girls at the point of a gun.

Charlotte Coats would forget her woes
If she could have a thousand beaux.
Helen Mulford to Hollywood will go
And be an extra in the movie show.
Betty Rausch, an artist rare,
Will draw her breath for the fair.

Harold Johnson will a bachelor be;
He was disappointed in love you see.
Helen George in the world will do
her part,
For she will soon an orphanage start.
Harold O'Shea with his curly locks
Will live in a cottage down by the docks.

I am the last and as for me
You'll judge me by my poetry.
Don't scowl at me if this seems mean,
My powers of perception ain't so keen.

I've only said what I think will be
If it proves wrong just don't blame me.

ISLE OF MIRRORS ABIGAIL STUDIO

"Portraits that almost speak"

Miss Abigail

The last stop ere young students disembark
From High School Ship is Isle of Mirrors. Mark
Your charts! Here reigns King Lens. To those who sit
For him in youth, perpetu'l youth he gives.
The lines of care that time may send to flit
Across your brows or settle there, are not Recorded here. Time stops where King Lens lives.
In magic mirrors offered all, the lot
Of each remains as pictured by his kit
Of wondrous tools. But those whose negatives
Are not in youth secured, the crafty fates
Play on, and Time with lines will mark each trail.
This Senior Class, in Mirrors, called Portraits,
Retains youth's bloom in Prints.

Typographical Error

"My Faith in Immorality" was the theme of one of Mr. Cox's sermons at New Berlin.

An advertisement for the all-student play, "All children accompanied by parents under 13 years of age admitted free."

Clarice P.—"Marian Simonsen says she intends to keep her youth."

Dorothy M.—"I know. She never introduces him to any one."

Mildred Marshall—"What did Miss Knudson mean when she told you never to darken her door again?"

Caroline Carswell—"Oh, I was just drawing on it with charcoal."

See the gallant Freshmen,
Behold their faces fair.
How proud they are, how stern they are;
Their skulls are full of air.

Betty Dallman—"My friend don't drink, don't smoke, don't swear, don't dance, don't—"

Nancy Mackie—"Gee—when did he die?"

John Schenk—"I don't want to know any more girls. I'm satisfied with the one I have."

Edwin George—"May I go down to get my slip?"

Miss Pinkerton—"Where is your slip?"

Edwin—"It just blew over to Hawks."

Joy Hill—"Is that girl gonna graduate with red hair?"

Wise Bird

Here's to Professor Harriman
His jokes are not so few,
Sometimes I miss their humor,
But I always laugh, don't you?

Those Small Brothers

Big Sister—"What did the Professor say about my voice when I left the room?"

Small Brother—"I heard him say something about 'night in a gale'."

Miss Dunseth on board our ship is like the little girl who was seasick. She declared she wasn't sick but admitted she would hate to yawn.

Theron Neill (pointing to Bob Phillips)—"I'd like to buy that fellow for what I think he's worth and sell him for what he thinks he's worth."

To Lois

Ashes to ashes,
Dust to dust,
If Davis don't get you
Aurelius must.

In the Cafeteria

Mr. McCoy—"Do you serve lobsters here?"

Ashley Coats—"Certainly, we cater to every one."

Mr. Stevens—"When I was young, the doctors said that if I didn't stop smoking I would become feeble-minded."

Freshie—"Well, why didn't you stop?"

Carl Thoma (rushing into library)—"I want the life of Caesar."

Auntie Butler—"Sorry, but Brutus beat you to it."

Sign on market: "Fresh Fish, Come In,"—and Schulz walked in.

Florence Abels (applying for chorus job)—"Mother says I sing beautifully."

Manager Kennedy—"Bring me a recommendation from the neighbors, and I'll give you a tryout."

The End
